Real Estate Probe Plea Stirs Storm

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Pres. Truman's plea that Congress investigate what he called the "brazen operations" of real estate lobbyists today generated a broadside of clashing reaction with political overtones.

The Chief Executive made his appeal in assailing the rent control extension bill which he signed reluctantly because of provisions permitting 15 per cent rent increases and junking nearly all construction controls.

Sen. Bricker (R.) of Ohio denounced Mr. Truman's lobby inquiry proposal as "the cheapest kind of political demagoguery."

But Sen. Taft, Bricker's Ohio colleague and—like Bricker—widely mentioned as an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, told reporters commenting on the President's call for a full investigation:

"I wouldn't mind doing that myself."

Taft is one of the authors of pending legislation to set up a long range housing program which Mr. Truman commended and which Bricker condemns.

Arthur W. Binns, head of the National Home and Property group would welcome an investi- Owners Foundation, said his gation.

"Nothing would please us more," Binns asserted, "than to have the truth spread upon the record and the American people realize the damage that has been done to them by destructive legislation and administration and false economics."

However, Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president of the National Ass'n of Real Estate Boards, declared in another statement that "it is nonsense to talk about investigating us" because Congress has "the complete records of our activities as required by law."

"We are just as legitimate a group as farm groups and labor groups and just as representative of our profession," Nelson said.

In that connection, Sen. Sparkman (D.) of Alabama said he thinks there should be "a sweeping investigation of all lobbying for the good of the country."

Contending to reporters that it is "primarily the responsibility of the Republican leadership" to get such an inquiry under way, since the GOP controls Congress, Sparkman added:

"This Congress has been the subject of the greatest pressure from lobbyists since I have been a member. There is no reason for singling out the real estate lobby. Let's investigate them all."

In his rent message yesterday, Mr. Truman said the real estate lobby has "constantly sought to weaken rent control and to do away with necessary aids to housing," he added:

"It is intolerable that this lobby should be permitted by its brazen operations to block programs so essential to the needs of our citizens. Nothing could be more clearly subversive of representative government. I urge the Congress to make a full investigation of this selfish and short-sighted group."

This and his blast against the rent bill brought a sharp retort from House Republican Leader Hellack of Indiana.

SEEKS DIVORCE—Mrs. Doris York of Main st., Gloucester, an Australian war bride, testified in Salem Probate Court that her seaman husband threatened to kill her every time he saw her in a car with another man. Her petition for divorce was taken under advisement.

Rent Boosts Not Automatic, Tenants Told

Edgar J. Driscoll, New England regional rent administrator, emphasized today that present rent ceilings still were in effect and that automatic increases were not permitted under the new rent control law.

Driscoll, in a statement, advised tenants that their rents would remain exactly as they were unless they agreed voluntarily with their landlords to accept increases up to 15 per cent.

Under such agreements, however, he added, landlords must sign leases with their tenants permitting them to occupy their present quarters at least until Dec. 31, 1948.

Driscoll said tenants could not be evicted for refusing to make such agreements and sign leases, adding:

"It is entirely up to you to decide whether you wish to sign such a lease.

"Present rent ceilings are still in effort and, before a lease to increase rents can become effective, the landlord must file a copy with the area rent office. The law prescribes that the lease must be filed within 15 days of signing."

Horowitz says he now carries half a dozen oranges for refreshment and bait when he goes fishing, and rarely comes home empty handed.

400 Plan Protest Over Hotel Rent Hike

Rent of more than 400 men roomers at a Boston permanent-residence hotel was increased by amounts ranging from 50 cents to $2 a week today as the new federal law went into effect, permitting 15 per cent increases.

The roomers, many of them older men with small fixed incomes, were considering foormation of a committee to protest to public authorities, on the ground that in som ecases the increases were more than 15 per cent.

Housing Expediter Office Closes Here

After 15 months of operation in which it established 108 local emergency housing committees and assisted more than 1000 builders in getting materials, the regional office of the housing expediter will close July 25, John Dobbs, office head announced today. The 10 remaining locality and construction offices in New England also will close.

Continuing will be the Boston Rent Control and Regional Compliance Offices and their authority to limit construction of amusement facilities.

Aid Parley Failure As Reds Still Balk

PARIS, July 1 (AP)—The three-power conference on European recovery with American aid was expected to break up in disagreement today, and Britain and France were reported ready to proceed in continental economic planning without the Soviet Union.

British Foreign Sec. Bevin, French Foreign Minister Bidault and Russian Foreign Minister Molotov scheduled their fourth session here for 4 p. m. (11 a. m., Boston time).

Both British and French circles said only a miracle could save the conference from failure. French sources even predicted today's session would be the last. The official French press agency said that after the final meeting a communique would be issued setting forth the impossibility of agreement.

The ministers were to consider a plan Molotov has proposed in answer to Sec. Marshall's June 5 offer of United States help in a European reconstruction program to be drawn up primarily by European nations.

Informed sources said that both Bevin and Bidault last night termed the Molotov proposal unminister's request, agreed to seek further advice from their governments.

Informed sources said Molotov proposed a committee setup to find out how much each European nation would need and how much the United States would supply.

They reported that Bevin and Bidault, on the other hand, declared that Europe should draw up a balance sheet of her resources, as well as needs, and adopt a program for employing these resources so as to cut the necessity for outside aid to a minimum.

French quarters interpreted Molotov's plan as meaning that the U. S. would have to pledge a definite amount without knowing where or how it would be used. Bevin was quoted as implying that this would be equivalent to asking for a "blank check."

$15,000 Fire In Peabody

PEABODY, July 1—A vacant, 20-room former convalescent home was levelled early today in a $15,000 general afarm fire. The three-story wooded structure at Andover and Cross sts., known as the Bellvedere, was a raging mass of flames when apparatus arrived and firemen concentrated on keeping the blaze from spreading to nearby residences.

Cause of the fire remained undetermined and Fire Chief William C. Mahoney ordered an investigation.

The building, owned by George Parianos of Andover st., was in the process of being converted into a multiple-apartment dwelling. Flames were visible for miles.

Brockton Kin Fear Kidnap Baby Is Dead

BROCKTON, July 1 — Two-year-old Lynette Conley, who was roughly kidnaped from her Perkins st. home here last Thursday after her mother and grandmother were allegedly attacked by her father, may have been critically or even fatally injured in the tussle, her mother feared today.

Louis B. Conley

The nationwide FBI search for ex-Sgt. Louis R. Conley of Camp Myles Sandish, the father, who is wanted on kidnaping and assault and battery warrants, turned to hospitals and doctors' offices.

Conley, whose home is in Amarillo, Tex., was believed to have headed that way originally, possibly with a confederate after taking the child.

Mrs. Lucille LaCroix Conley, the mother, who was knocked unconscious in the fight for the little girl, emphasized today that the child was strenuously tugged. The child screamed at first.

"Then," said Mrs. Conley, "I heard something snap. My baby went limp. She suddenly stopped crying. My husband ran out to an automobile with her. There was another man in it. Lynette was still silent when they drove away."

Mrs. Conley's mother, Mrs. Bertha LaCroix, was struck on the head with a pair of pliers during the fight. Her daughter was knocked senseless with a blow the husband allegedly struck after donning brass knuckles.

Mrs. Conley is expecting a second child. She had been granted custody of Lynette in the course of separate support action. She said her husband previously had enteder the house with a gun and tried to take the child but she outwitted him.

Lina Basquette is seeking $15,000,000 from the three Warner brothers, of filmdom fame, in a suit filed in New York. She claims the Warners, brothers of the late Samuel L. Warner, once wed to Lina, did her out of a bundle of cash via a tricky legal move when Samuel died.

Lina Basquette Asks 15 Million of Warners

NEW YORK, July 1—Lina Basquette, former Follies and film star, has filed suit in Supreme Court seeking $15,000,000 from the three Warner brothers, claiming an astute legal move on their part had done her out o fthis bundle of cash.

The one-time star once was married to a fourth Warner brother, Samuel L., but he died in 1927 when she was only 19. She since has been married three times.

Her suit, filed by Atty. Conrad Lipton, charges that the three surviving brothers saw to it that her husband's will, which cut her off with $100,000, was filed in New York for probate instead of in California, where Warner lived.

She points out that being only 19 at the time, she trusted him.

But, as the years passed, she claims, she learned what she is sure they knew at the time. That was that if the will had ben filed was that if the will had been filed in her husband's state of residence she would have been entitled under California law to half of everything that Samuel Warner left in his estate.

At the time of her husband's death, his estate was valued at $1,000,000. But she claims now that the value of what his brothers "fraudulently deprived her of" has increased to $15,000,000.

The brothers, Harry M., Albert and Jack, filed a reply to her suit, denying all her allegations.

In addition, they pointed out, she hasn't got a case because she waited more than the six years prescribed in the statute of limitations before she took any action.

To this Lina replies that she did not learn of the alleged fraud until recently. She added that she had delayed action also to protect her daughter, Lita, from notoriety.

State Calls M. D.'s As Defense Scores In Overell Trial

SANTA ANA, Cal., July 1—Seeking desperately to win back lost ground, the State today called two noted surgeons in the trial in which Beulah Louise Overell and her fiance, George R. Gollum, are accused of the yacht murders of her parents, wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell.

The new witnesses are Dr. C. W. Decker of Pomona and Dr. John Ball of Santa Ana.

They were called after the defense scored heavily when one of the State's chief witnesses, veteran pathologist Dr. John Montanus, admitted giving "erroneous" testimony before the grand jury which indicted the young couple.

The defendants, Beulah, 18, and Gollum, 21, won an opening victory on medical testimony through Dr. Montanus' admission that the wealthy victims could have been killed by the dynamite blast which wrecked their yacht at Newport Bay last March 15.

The admission punched a hole in one of the key points of the State's case—that the Overells were beaten to death before the explosion occurred.

Dr. Montanus, one of the first witnesses when the taking of testimony was started last week, was recalled to the stand by Special Prosecutor Eugene D. Williams with a view to developing to the fullest the State's position that the financier and his wife were killed and then the yacht was dynamited to cover the crime.

Under Williams' questioning the pathologist repeated the conclusions he reached in performing the original autopsies on the Overell bodies.

His testimony was that death was caused by multiple skull fractures that could not have been self-inflicted and that the couple was already dead when the ship was sunk.

S. B. Kaufman, chief counsel for Gollum, then took over cross-examination and produced grand jury testimony in which the autopsy surgeon testified that the Overells died before the explosion because there was no water in the lungs.

Kaufman then called the physician's attention to his trial testimony that he had not opened the bodies and, hence, could not have known whether there was water in the lungs.

Dr. Montanus admitted that he had not opened the bodies.

Kaufman demanded:

"How do you account for the discrepancy in testimony?"

A—"My tesimony before the grand jury in respect to examining the lungs of Mr. and Mrs. Overell was erroneous."

Q—"Then your testimony before the grand jury was a figment Overell was erroneous."

A—"My testimony was erroneous."

"Why?" Kaufman asked.

"I can't account for it," the pathologist replied.

Dr. Montanus then admitted under further questioning by Miss Overell's attorney, Otto A. Jacobs, that he had asked Dist. Atty. James Davis, then handling the case, for a second autopsy on the bodies because "the first wasn't complete."

He added:

"I told Mr. Davis in the interests of justice the bodies ought to be exhumed and re-examined."

Two physicians and an undertaker already have testified that the Overells were dead before the blast.

Hub Heat, Humidity Linger On

The weather bureau today came up with the ill wind that blows nobody any gooda moderate southwest breeze that's keeping a cool front pent up in the northwest.

As a result, the warm spell which aws to have been broken by thunder showers yesterday will continue for at least the rest of this day. The mercury headed for the 80's in the forenoon and the humidity was at 90 per cent of saturation, three points up from yesterday at the same hour.

Though it was already 24 hours late, the weather bureau clung to its prediction of thunder showers by late tonight with a promise of fair and somewhat cooler weather tomorrow.

Meanwhile, New England counted four more deaths by drowning, one from overexertion and another auto fatality.

VA Seeks Painless Way Out For Overpaid Vet Trainees

Overpayments made to veterans in connection with on-the-job training—said to total $1,000,000 for 14,000 Bay State ex-GIs—is to be collected without undue hardship, it was announced today by Col. Curtis H. Nance, regional director of the Veterans' Administration.

Disclosure that overpayments had been made through a faulty bookkeeping system and inexperienced clerks came as a bombshell to thousands of veterans who long since have spent the money and have no reserves from which to make repayments.

It was this situation that prompted Col. Nance to announce that the overpayments in all hardship cases would be collected from future payments to veterans, most of whom have not yet completed their courses of apprenticeship.

Repayments as high as $450 have been asked by the government.

The situation stems from the enactment by Congress last August of Public Law 679 which reduced ceilings for on-the-job training from $300 to $200.

It is these overpayments which the government now seeks to get back.

In the case of veterans still receiving subsistence, any overpayment owed the government can be deducted from present payments, a VA official said, but vets no longer receiving subsistence are asked to get up the cash.

Although a VA official said monthly repayments would be permitted in cases where a veteran is unable to raise the lump sum owed, veterans—particularly those with wives and children—asserted such payments would be an equally heavy burden.

Many veterans said they attempted to turn back the excess checks, but that VA counter men told them this was impossible and advised them to hold the checks. Some claim they were told to "forget it" and cash the checks.

In any event, the veterans contend they should not be penalized for government bookkeeping errors.

Cambridge has received $13,500 from its 440 parking meters in the last 13 weeks, it was disclosed by City Mgr. John B. Atkinson.

The disclosure was made when Atkinson sought an $8400 appropriation to purchase 125 more meters to be set up in the Harvard sq. area. He said he hoped eventually to have 1200 meters throughout the city.

Nab 5th Officer In French Plot

PARIS, July 1 (INS)—Another army officer was seized in France today in connection with an abortive right-wing plot to overthrow the government.

He was identified as a Capt. Prat of the French air corps, and was said to have served as a liaison between aeronautical circles and the underground army, known as the "Black Maquis."

His arrest brings to five the number of conspirators who have been seized since French secret police went into lightening action yesterday.

Most of the Paris press, meanwhile, adopted a skeptical attitude toward the reported scope and power of the insurrection dedicated to establishing an authoritarian government under the Napoleonic title of "The Directoire."

Hub Auto Club Joins in Big Safety Drive

Twenty Massachusetts boys and girls of school age will be killed in motor vehicle accidents during July and August unless every driver does something about it.

This was the warning today of the Boston Automobile Club as it joined the American Automobile Ass'n national campaign cautioning motorists to "Take It Easy and Live."

The club cited statistics of the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles showing that 20 children were killed in July and August in 1945, and again 20 were killed in 1946.

"This year, with more cars on the road, the hazards are even greater," a club announcement stated.

The campaign to halt this "slaughter of innocents" opened in Boston today when all postoffice and mail trucks blazed forth with red posters, showing a policemen's hand held up in "stop" position, with the slogan: "IN TRAFFIC, TAKE IT EASY AND LIVE."

Postmaster Patrick J. Connelly, who attached the first poster to a Boston postal district truck, urged all mail drivers to observe safety rules. The nationwide campaign was also endorsed by Registrar of Motor Vehicles King.

80,000 More Ship Workers Quit

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—A strike of CIO shipyard workers—previously confined to 10 yards in four states—spread to additional east and Gulf Coast plants today as a walkout of 80,000 more unionists got under way, threatening a shutdown of virtually all major shipbuilding and repair work on the Atlantic Coast.

The new walkout—begun at 12:01 a. m. and announced in Camden, N. J., by an official of Local 1, Industrial Union and Marine and Shipbuilding Workers — brought to approximately 120,000 the number of men involved in the strike—some 42,000 having struck last Thursday in 10 plants in Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York.

"The strike is on," the union official said shortly after midnight. "The strike will affect at least 22 of the 30 shipyards on the east and Gulf coasts."

12 Ship Survivors Reach Woods Hole

WOODS HOLE, July 1—Eight women and four men, passengers taken off the Danish motorship Bolivia late yesterday following its collision with the Army transport St. Albans Victory 17 miles southwest of Nantucket lightship, were brought ashore here today by the Coast Guard cutter Hornbeam.

Among them was Miss Jean Muus, 34, South Hadley, who had been on her way to Norway. "I was asleep when the crash came," she said, "and I awoke to find things tossed around in my cabin. We didn't become fearful until late yesterday when we learned the ship had taken a lot of water. But things settled down to routine while we waited."

Some of the passengers were traveling to Norway and Denmark to see relatives for the first time since the Germans invaded.

The Bolivia was being towed to Newport, R. I. by the Coast Guard vessel Firebush.

The Coast cutter Spar took the St. Albans Victory in tow for Boston after 10 Army passengers were removed by the Navy cargo transport Wyandotte.

Mine Owners Map Strategy on Lewis

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

WASHINGTON, July 1 (INS)—Soft coal operators assembled in Washington today to chart their course in negotiations with John L. Lewis for a new mine wage contract.

The operators' camp was thrown into a state of confusion by week-end reports that U. S. Steel and Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., world's largest commercial producer, had agreed to grant Lewis' full wage-hour demands.

Western operators stated flatly they were not committed to such an offer which would amount to a wage increase of 35 cents an hour for 400,000 bituminous miners.

Meantime, Lewis maintained silence and waited for either the industry or the government to make the next move.

The 2600 bituminous coal mines were returned to their owners yesterday after 13 months of federal control.

Plea for Curley Draws Rush Job By Justice Dept.

While reports on Mayor James M. Curley's condition were widely conflicting, U. S. Pardon Atty. Daniel Lyons today got to work in earnest on Justice Dept. recommendation on the clemency petition by which Boston's mayor hopes to win freedom through Pres. Truman.

BURNED—Olivia deHavilland is on her way back to Hollywood after a trip to Panama . . . and she's wondering what her studio will say when they see her lobster-bright skin. Olivia went to sleep in the sun for two hours and woke up done to a crisp.

Officials at Danbury Federal Prison, to which the mayor has been sentenced to serve a six to 18-month term for mail fraud, spoke glowingly of his improved condition.

They pointed out he had attended mass Sunday and now was walking about the prison yard chatting with other inmates and in "excellent spirits."

Mary Curley Donnelly, however, reported that her father's condition was "very poor" and that such reports of his speedy improvement were not true.

"I was terribly distressed after a visit to my father," she said. "He looked terrible. He felt terrible. He's a very sick man. The only reason we were allowed to see him before expiration of the usual 30-day period was because he is such a sick man."

Mary added that she was hopeful President Truman would grant a pardon and said she sincerely thanked the Cambridge City Council for petitioning President Truman to grant clemency. The council was one of hundreds of organizations which have taken such action.

The recommendation concerning the pardon being written by Pardon Atty. Lyons for the Justice Dept., was started after a study of the opinions and recommendations of the trial judge, prosecution attorneys, probation officers and prison physicians.

How many of these documents have actually reached the desk of the pardon attorney would not be stated, but it was learned he has begun a detailed study of the case and every effort will be made to finish it within a few days.

However, the physical condition of Boston's mayor is said to far outweigh any legal consideration and is being carefully studied.

They have received reports direct from physicians who have examined the mayor in the prison hospital and physicians who attended him before he began serving his sentence.

All agree, it was stated, that the mayor is suffering a complication of ailments all of which are aggravated by imprisonment and the humiliation.

Legislature in Third Attempt to Prorogue

Massachusetts legislators return to the State House today for their third attempt in four days to prorogue the 155th session, but with considerable unfinished business still awaiting clearance.

One of the major issues blocking prorogation is the proposed $12,000,000 bond issue for airport development.

The Democratic minority in the Senate has threatened to prevent its enactment unless the Republicans agree to modify the redistricting bill, which the minority claims would gerrymander some Democratic solons out of office.

There was also some confusion over the State rent control bill, which Gov. Bradford has declared he will surely sign, but which many legislator now regard as meaningless and inoperative as a result of President Truman's signing the bill extending the new federal rent control law.

Observers pointed out that whatever action is taken by the State Legislature, rent-payers and landlords will be governed solely by the new federal law, which became effective last night.

Another cause for tension between the two branches today was last night's action of the Senate, which left the House working on last-minute legislation and adjourned shortly after 6 p. m. to attend the Red Sox-Yankee baseball game.

House Speaker Frederick B. Willis administered a verbal lashing to the senators for walking out and thus blocking prorogation, while the Upper Branch members accused the House of dilly-dallying.

In-Law Testifies At Ingalls Trial

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 1 (AP) The government's principal witnesses in the slavery trial of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wesley Ingalls were expected to start testimony in federal court today, with a son-in-law heading the list.

U. S. Atty. Eugene A. Tolin said Richard Roberts, the son-in-law, would be first to take the stand.

The 62-year-old Mrs. Ingalls, who became ill Friday and was unable to appear for a session that night, was reported improved sufficiently to be back in court.

Roberts an dother witnesses, Tolin stated, will testify concerning what the government alleges was the specific act of enslavement of Negro maid Dora Jones last Oct. 10 at Berkeley, Cal.

400 Flee Flood In St. Louis Area

ST. LOUIS, July 1 (AP)—The Mississippi river, at its highest flood stage here in 103 years, forced abandonment of levees protecting the nearby Illinois communities of Dupo and East Carondelet today after the successful evacuation of 4000 residents of the area.

School buses and Army trucks were used to evacuate the residents during the night after a two-inch rain and flash flood added to the critical situation.

Flood battlers, including hundreds of teen-aged youths, set up a second line of defense along the Illinois Central and Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks which were being sandbagged in a new bid to save the communities.

Dad Fears Lost Girl, 2, Kidnaped

LASSEN NATIONAL PARK, Cal., July 1 (AP)—Additional search parties were thrown today into the hunt for little Greta Mary Gale, whose disappearance from a vacation camp Sunday was given a tragic corollary in the death of her grandfather, former Cong. John H. Tolan.

Tolan, who was 70, suffered a heart attack shortly after the child's disappearance was noted, and died late yesterday, with his wife and two sons at his bedside.

The two - and-a-half - year-old Greta—"Toni" to her family and friends—had been playing near the Tolan summer cabin at Lee's camp.

The father, William Gale, Jr., assistant district attorney of Alameda County, told newsmen he was convinced the child was kidnaped by someone possibly hoping to obtain ransom from Tolan.

Forest service men, sheriff's officers from three counties, lumberjacks and vacationers, numbering in all about 150, searched the area of numerous creeks yesterday.

A sound truck asking for volunteers to join the search was sent to communities in this remote sector of northeastern California.

Fifty men responded in Susanville alone, and persons close to search headquarters said the parties going out today would include about 350 searchers.

Hunting dogs trailed the little girl's footprints for a quarter-mile yesterday, but the prints disappeared near some automobile tire tracks. Bloodhounds were reported en route to the search headquarters today.

An FBI agent was sent from San Francisco in event developments should place the cast within federal jurisdiction.

Salvador Police Seize Arms Cache, Arrest 8

SAN SALVADOR, Salvador (AP)—A Presidential bulletin announced that police had seized an arms cache near this capital and had arrested three Army officers and five corporals on charges of plotting to overthrow the government.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD

Mrs. Mary Brady, 56, of East Boston, was found dead of a heart attack in her apartment by police. Dr. Anthony Ripa said death occurred about 10 days ago.

The Bride said "I don't!" Rosanna Peveri of London dances with Peter Basquez of Chicago, after startling a churchful of relatives by saying "I don't" instead of "I do" at the proper time. After the confused near-wedding the reception went on and Rosanna asked the bridegroom if they could go to the altar again—this time to say "I do."

Body of Wollaston Girl, 9, Found, Drowning Victim

The body of Judith Galvin, 9, of Hamden circle, Wollaston, who disappeared while in bathing last Thursday, was found today floating a short distance off the Squantum and Wollaston Yacht Clubs in Quincy Bay. Death was due to drowning.

The body was discovered after several days of dragging and diving had failed. The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Galvin. She disappeared while at Wollaston Beach with her mother, brother and other children.

GI Groom-Elect Not So Sure Now He Wants Balky Bride

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Rosanna Peveri, who came here from her London home to marry the Chicago GI she met during the war and then left him standing at the altar, says she is ready and willing to marry him now.

"I felt so homesick," the dark haired 24-year-old English girl said in relating why she answered "no" at the scheduled marriage ceremony Sunday when the priest asked, "do you take this man to be your lawful wedded husban?"

Her intended bridegroom, Peter Vasquez, 26-year-old express company worker, was not sure if there would be a wedding.

"If she's not certain," he said, "it wouldn't be a good idea."

If Peter Doesn't Want Her, Giovanni Does

LONDON, July 1 (AP)—The man she left behind still hopes to marry Rosanna Peveri, the British GI bride-to-be who said "No" instead of "I do" at the altar in Chicago Sunday.

"I thought the world of Rosanna and still do. I shall be happy to forget the past if she comes back to me," said Giovanni Castellani, assistant cafe manager who was engaged to Rosanna when she left for the U. S. last May.

Transport Runs Aground in Tokyo

TOKYO, July 1 (AP)—The Army transport Admiral Sims, sailing from Manila to Yokohama with 1444 soldiers, nurses and dependents, ran aground in Tokyo Bay, near Yokosuka, today, Navy headquarters reported.

Three-Day Fete To Unite '4th' With Jones Day

Welcoming the public in an observance of honor to one of its greatest naval heroes, the U. S. Navy, on more than 400 vessels throughout the nation, including 62 in 11 New England ports, will jointly celebrate Friday, July 4, Independence Day, and Sunday, July 6, the 200th anniversary of the birth of John Paul Jones.

The double observance in Boston will include two days of "dress ship," July 4 and 5, and three days of "open house," July 4, 5 and 6, on vessels ranging from the famed frigate Constitution to the newly launched 10,000-ton cruiser Providence.

The Independence Day observance of the Navy will begin at 8 p. m., Friday, when ships in port will fly the nation ensign, display their colorful signal flags, and be "at home" to visitors.

Again on Saturday, full dress will be the order of the day, along with a national salute of 21 guns fired at 1 p. m. at the Boston Naval Shipyard in Charlestown and at South Boston drydocks.

Principal exercises on Sunday, featured by a tribute to John Paul Jones from President Truman, will be held at the Charlestown yard, and there will be a display of air power by more than 100 planes from the naval air station at Quonset, R. I.

The frigate Constitution was chosen as scene of the chief formalities because of its resemblance to the type of vessel commanded by John Paul Jones, who during the Revolution delivered the orders that won significant naval victories for this country.

Reds Cold to UN Police Plans

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 1 (INS) — Soviet Russia reacted coldly today to American, British and French unofficial estimates of what they believed should be the size of the United Nations' international police force to maintain world peace.

Russia, while refusing to make an estimate of its own, didn't like the estimates submitted to the Security Council by the other three powers. China presented no figures, but went along with the British estimate.

The United States' estimate—20 divisions of combat troops, 3800 planes and 204 warships, including three battleships and six carriers—was the most formidable force suggested and, consequently, had the spotlight today in the aftermath discussions.

How big a force in manpower alone is being suggested by Uncle Sam was uncertain.

Gallico Given Right to Pick Own Subjects

The first in a series of sparkling new humor stories, fully illustrated, will begin next Sunday in the Pictorial Review, distributed with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

The series will be written by the celebrated young American newspaperman and humorist, Paul Gallico, whose stories have been read by millions in the U. S. and throughout the world.

Gallico has been given the unique privilege to write about anything he chooses.

"I'll try to be light, funny, make people laugh if I can," he said in describing his plans. "I'm going to write about anything that seems ridiculous, or funny, or amusing, just a guy thinking out loud."

Editor and Publisher thinks that Gallico is tops.

In writing about his new assignment the publication says, "Gallico is joining the celebrated list of former sports columnists, Runyon, Pegler, McLemore, Sullivan, Kiernan and others, who turned their backs on fairways and double plays to write for people who do their reading farther forward in the paper."

A former sports editor of the New York Daily News, and former war correspondent for Cosmopolitan Magazine, Gallico joins a host of other literary figures in the Pictorial Review.

Among the writing celebrities in this publication are Westbrook Pegler, Bugs Baer, George Dixon, Louella Parsons, Mark Hellinger and Lawrence Gould, as well as leading cartoonists.

Southern Solon Says GOP Perils Flood Control

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Rep. Kerr (D.) of North Carolina said today that opposition by "powerful Republicans" had threatened a denial of any appropriations for 12 big flood control and navigation projects in the South.

He said the House Appropriations Committee finally voted to recommend funds for 11 of the 12 for the year beginning today. House debate on the measure was set for this afternoon.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

CLARENCE BROWN, member of the House of Representatives, asked a pertinent question: "Why does our federal government cost so much? According to Mr. Truman's estimates, that government is to cost the people of the United States $37,500,000,000 in the fiscal year 1947-8.

No matter what Mr. Truman or anyone else may say about reducing the national debt of $257,325,000,000, it is not going to be reduced much quickly. Government expenditures can only come out of the earnings of the people. Certainly little short of confiscation, the share that the government can take of the earned dollar is about tops, and is already placing limitations on the productive capacity of the nation.

Representative Brown answers his own question:

". . . In the last 30 years the executive branch of our federal government has undergone a fantastic growth . . . According to the best information available, 30 years ago the number of establishments in the executive department, with the rank of bureau or equivalent, was but 158. By 1932—or 15 years later—the number of these government divisions had increased to 521, and by 1944 had jumped to 1141. I have been unable to get an accurate count on the number of these government establishments which exist today, but certainly they have grown no less, and now probably top the 1200 mark."

Then he added:

"The number of civilian employes in the executive branch of our federal government has also increased at an amazing rate. In 1916 they numbered 438,057. By 1926 the number had grown to 528,542; by 1936 it had jumped to 824,259; and by late 1946 had risen—believe it or not—to the high figure of 2,766,165."

THE QUESTIONS ARISE: Does the federal government need so many bureaus, commissions, departments? Does the federal government need so many employes? Any contact, even the most casual, with a government office discloses inefficient, slow, casual operations. I have been in some government offices where the payroll artists seem to trip over each other. The spread-the-work policy of WPA seems to have become permanent. "Go to that window!" "Go to this window!" "See that young lady over there." It seems such a waste of time.

BROWN SAYS:

"Twenty-seven different government agencies are concerned with standards and inspection; 29 with statistics; 16 with water and other power; 22 with insurance; 93 with government lending in one form or another; 37 with foreign trade; 46 with conducting investigations; 37 with the public health; 64 with business relations; 44 with agriculture . . ." And on and on it goes giving a picture of duplication and confusion.

ACCORDING to Comptroller-General Warren, one-fifth of the entire land area of the United States is owned by the government. But there is no central inventory; there is no one place where all the data is available.

We are supposed to be a people with great managerial skill, capable of organizing efficient means of production and distribution. Yet we have never in our history applied those skills to the organization of the government. It just growed. And it seems to continue to grow unabated once a bureau is created to meet some particular need, rarely can it be abolished even after it has ceased to have any usefulness. A vested interest grows up in the continuance of the jobs.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES nearly always pad their requirements in anticipation of a congressional cut. The result is that money is wasted to keep the figures high. The Army and Navy are notorious padders of their estimated expenditures. Often this padding is necessary because the departments dare not risk running short in the face of possible emergencies.

WHAT THEN IS NEEDED is what private businesses do when they have overexpanded. They call in a firm of engineers and have themselves reorganized. It will be recalled that during the depression such a firm as the United States Steel Corp. did precisely that. Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge and Rep. Clarence Brown have introduced a bill to reorganize the administrative branch of the federal government. This is not a sensational proposition and does not attract too much enthusiasm—but it can save the nation a heap of money.

STORK BUSY

With 11,441 births recorded in Boston to date this year, the stork appeared heading for an all-time record during 1947, City Registrar Michael J. Manning reported today.

At the same time he reported a drop in the number of marriages and a slight increase in the number of deaths.

Home Garden Forum

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of the Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultura School

Q—Do daisies indicate an acid soil?

A—Daisies are an indication of a poor, rundown soil condition. As the grass dies out, daisies and other weeds take over. Your soil is not only acid, but low in plant food.

Q—When should poison ivy be sprayed with weed killer?

A—Now that it is in full leaf, it should be sprayed with 2, 4-D. Small patches can be dusted provided the dust is applied when the foliage is damp.

Q—Something is eating holes in our early cabbage. Do birds do this damage?

A—Probably the damage is from the green cabbage worm. Light green worms are hard to see. Dust with rotenone after heads form.

Q—When should we salt the asparagus bed?

A—Not necessary. Apply complete fertilizer now, 3 to 4 lbs. per 100 sq. ft.

Q—How can we make flowers get bushy? Our annuals seem to be going straight up.

A—Annuals can be pinched back to encourage side shoots to develop. Pinch off the terminal bud as soon as it develops.

Q—Is it too late to plant pole beans? What variety is best?

A—Pole beans can still be planted. Kentucky Wonder or Old Homestead is the best variety. Use the white seeded strain if available.

Q—Will hollyhock grow on the northwest side of a fence?

A—Yes. I see no reason why hollyhock will not do well if it can get 6 hours of sun per day.

Fellow Worker Saves Man From Death in Lift

Saved by a fellow worker from being crushed to death when he slipped from an auto elevator and fell between the floor and wall, William Sprague, 51, of Allen st., West End, is in critical condition at City Hospital with fractures of the left arm and thigh, and lacerations of the left leg and hand.

Parris G. Haddix of Washington st., South End, seeing Sprague fall, promptly shut off the power and pulled him free.

Shooting, Fire Tips Win Awards

Tips on the shooting of a Wareham man in a police chase and a multiple-alarm Charlestown fire shared top awards of $5 each in the $50 weekly Record-American-Advertiser News Tip Contest.

There were 12 awards of $2 each for tips on other stories which included automobile accidents, drownings, a Provincetown plane crash and the death of a K-9 hero war dog.

Sixteen awards of $1 each completed the weekly distribution of prize money to alert "amateur reporters" who were first to flash the News Tip Editor at Liberty 4000 with tips on news, feature or human-interest stories and pictures for New England's favorite "Big Three" newspapers, the Daily Record, the Boston American, and the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Britain's Power Industry Seizure Seen Assured

LONDON, July 1 (AP)—Nationalization of Britain's electric power industry was virtually assured as enabling legislation sponsored by the Labor government went to the House of Lords today after receiving final approval in the House of Commons by a vote of 321 to 173.

The bill would permit the government to take over approximately 190 private power companies and 370 municipal electric plants at an estimated cost of about 350,000,000 pounds ($1,400,000,000).

Worker Quells Ill Man 4 Stories Up

BALTIMORE, July 1 (AP)—Two Baltimore construction workers were recuperating today after a struggle on a scaffold four stories above the ground.

Edward Jones, 41, suddenly fell ill while chipping bricks on a downtown building, and Warren Catherman, 64, swung himself up to the rescue on a boatswain's chair.

When Catherman attempted to steady the dazed man, Jones started to struggle. Catherman said he finally tried to knock Jones out to quiet him, but needed the help of Jesse Walker, 38, to hold him while firemen raised a ladder.

In Plaid

Reflecting the Paris influence and a stunning departure from the rainwear apparel of the past were the new styles displayed by the National Rainwear Manufacturers' Ass'n at their New York showing. This is a dapper, woven cotton, plaid raincoat. The back is wide and full, sleeves are cuffed, and coat is full lined in solid satin. See right . . .

Fashion Editor Ruth Morgiebee selects these new-for-fall raincoats.

Full, Boxy

This smartly garbed model wears a snow-white rayon gabardine raincoat, colorfully lined with a printed crepe to match the umbrella. Another of the full and boxy typo, it has a detachable hood

Loose—This coat for rainy fall days is of rayon fabric, with woven stripes of brown and beige. Loose fitting, it features cuffed sleeves and detachable hood.

WHY EUROPE STARVES

BEHIND the Truman doctrine, as modified by the Marshall policy, is the tacit assumption that the United States has an obligation to relieve foreign nations of the cost of war.

At present, the accent is on inviting foreign nations to make a comprehensive inventory of their needs, so that the open-handed United States may respond in an integrated, instead of a piecemeal fashion.

After repeated warnings by Bernard M. Baruch, a distinguished Democrat; Senator Vandenberg, the Republican leader, and former President Hoover that this country ought first to determine its capacity to extend foreign aid, President Truman recently appointed three committees to study the subject.

But no academic survey by these committees or other agencies can ignore indisputable fundamentals.

If the Lend-Lease policy of giving away American assets is perpetuated under a new label, the certain result will be to IMPOVERISH THE UNITED STATES.

However, in the event that common sense prevails and our people insist on reasonable limits on international alms-giving, the damage to our national economy and standard of living will be moderated correspondingly.

THE PRESENT study is designed to determine what proportion of the hours of labor of American producers should be diverted into alien channels.

And that, of course, indicates a new form of exploitation is in the making.

FOR IT IS BASED ON THE FANTASTIC PROPOSITION THAT THE 6½ PER CENT OF THE WORLD'S POPULATION, RESIDENT IN THE UNITED STATES, CAN CARRY ON ITS SHOULDERS THE OTHER 93½ PER CENT OF THE WORLD.

If, by these poverty-breeding sacrifices, Americans could assure world peace, even such a program of sackcloth and ashes might seem appealing.

But the experience of the last eight years has shown again and again the futility of that expectation.

It is a matter of fact that the colossal gifts to the Soviet Union, instead of assuring international peace, tended to expand the Communist's arrogant hope of world domination.

The causes of economic degradation in many countries are generally political.

They are tied up with the exhausting experiences of war and the current pursuit of ideologies which discourage human incentive to produce.

So if we should attempt to hide from the peoples involved the dire consequences of their own political errors through continuously trying to offset the effects of those errors with a rain of dollars from the United States, the certain result will be to strengthen, rather than to weaken, the forces of evil.

'RESONARE CHRISTUM'

ONLY a relatively few New Englanders could attend the inspiring consecration of the Most Rev. John J. Wright, D. D., as seventh auxiliary bishop of the Boston archdiocese.

But many thousands of New Englanders were there in spirit, praying for the brilliant native son who has risen, while yet young, to one of the highest positions in his church.

Significantly, and we believe prophetically, Bishop Wright chose for his motto "Resonare Christum (To Be the Echo of Christ)."

There is need, in this troubled world of ours, for a return to the teachings of the Saviour.

Without a doubt, all the causes of future wars would vanish over night if the people of our nation and all other nations could be induced to turn back to the ageless truths contained in the Sermon on the Mount.

"Resonare Christum" should be the aim and aspiration of every nation that strives for the real and everlasting peace that only God Himself can give.

Woo your lass while summer is here;
Winter vows are colder.
Have your kiss while lips are near;
Tomorrow you are older.
Take your kisses, take your girl,
When they come for asking;
In your heyday melt the pearl
At the love-ray basking.

EVER HEAR of a man proposing to more than 200 women at the same time? It happened. One Sunday at the conclusion of his sermon, the famous Methodist preacher, Lorenzo Dow, amazed the congregation by saying: "I am a candidate for matrimony. If any woman in this church would care to marry me let her rise." Two women stood up. The preacher chose the one who was nearest to the pulpit. And so they were married.

PASSING BY: Mrs. Marion Story. Highly prolific mother from Bakersfield, Cal. Has given birth to 21 children in 26 years of marriage. Twenty of her offspring are still living. Mrs. Story is 43 . . . Leo Lindemann. Very popular Broadway restaurateur. Operates Lindy's in Manhattan which, as you probably know, was one of Damon Runyon's favorite places . . . George Gallup. Professional feeler of the public pulse. George is six feet four inches tall, and weighs 215 pounds . . . Mrs. Harold J. Patterson. Erstwhile film star professionally known as Dorothy Mackail. Dorothy deserted Hollywood some time ago and now lives in New Jersey not far from the banks of the old Raritan.

ROMEO AND JULIET: In a recent English production of "Romeo and Juliet," the girl portraying Juliet was 19 years of age. The Romeo was 26. That is very unusual. In most productions of the Shakespearean classic, the immortal pair of lovers are portrayed by stars in their thirties and forties. Juliet was a teen-ager and Romeo slightly older. Theirs was a story of young love. The pairs, therefore, are properly played by young people. I would like to see a production with an 18-year-old Juliet and a 21-year-old Romeo.

ASIDES: Every family in Hong Kong is compelled by law to keep a cat. The felines are necessary to battle the city's vast horde of rats and mice . . . Bellhops in Manhattan are now making from $60 to $150 a week. That's very nice. But even so, it is much less than they made during the war years.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q—Can you tell we what the racing colors of the King of England are? A—Purple and gold. Q—How old is your dog? —About seven and a half. Q—My daughter, aged 14, is engaged to be married and wears an engagement ring. Ever hear of a younger wearer of such a ring? A—I knew a 13-year-old girl who was engaged to be married and wore an engagement ring. The wearing of this ring drove her high school friends wild with envy.

TWINS: Take people who are married to identical twins. Are they always certain they have the right twin? For example, could twin sisters switch places without their husbands being any the wiser? Dr. Franz J. Kallman of New York City, an expert on twins, says he has never known the husband or wife of a twin to be fooled. It may be no husband or wife is fooled by a twin, but I knew a couple of twins who often fooled boy friends. They would switch places at dances and alternate on dates and so on, with the young fellows never catching on.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Mrs. Harry C. Mersey has sent me a rare photo of that great harness horse, Dan Patch. Mrs. Hersey's husband was the driver of Dan Patch in most of his record-breaking races . . . Add members M. N. I. A. P. Club Nancy Ganci, New York City . . . What was the total cost of the most recent blessed event in your family? Did you read about that couple in Shanghai whose first blessed event cost them $2,400,500. That was in Chinese money. In U. S. currency it was $201.04. In London, Eng., now the average cost of a blessed event is £100 ($400).

SIDELIGHTS: The slogan of an Ocean Grove, N. J., summer resort is "No mosquitoes, no saloons." My favorite resort slogan is the one Sheepshead Bay had in the yesteryear, namely: "Where the fish bite and the mosquitoes don't" . . . It was John Stuart Mill who said: "One can, to an almost laughable degree, infer what a man's wife is like from his opinions about women in general."

PLEASE NOTE: Are you a hamburger sandwich fan? So am I. But I am being very careful where I buy my hamburgers these days. Recent investigations have revealed many hamburger emporiums are using horsemeat for their sandwiches.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK, July 1—Henry Wallace has failed to say whether he wrote certain "Guru" letters to Prof. Nicholas Konstantin Roerich, the Russian painter, orientalist and international political adventurer.

Westbrook Pegler

I will, therefore, discuss the existence of a New Deal cabal which revolved, or spun, about Roerich before Roerich departed on a mission to China and Mongolia for the Department of Agriculture.

It will be necessary for the reader to pay close attention to keep the relationship straight.

LOUIS L. HORCH, at present regional director of the Department of Commerce for New York and New Jersey, with offices in New York, was a disciple of Roerich.

He has stated that this organization, of which Wallace seems to have been a familiar if not formally a member, was a cult and that the faithful regarded Roerich as a deity.

Horch compared Roerich to Father Divine, whose followers believe that he is God.

The "Guru" letters which turned up in the 1940 Presidential campaign, express reverence for Roerich and indicate that the writer had consecrated himself to a holocaust by means of which the, as it were, dross would be burned off mankind and a fine surviving race would be produced.

The Russians called their massacres a liquidation. The Germans called their's a purge. Both were regional.

This holocaust was to purify mankind and therefore was intended to sweep the whole world.

WALLACE SENT Roerich to Asia, ostensibly to hunt grass seed, in 1934 and canned him by cable in 1935.

Horch later testified that there was talk in the cult of a scheme to make Roerich "head" of an independent state of Siberia.

The "Guru" letters were written before Wallace sent Roerich on the trip, in contemplation of the Siberian project.

In 1938, Wallace appointed Horsch, the chief disciple of the old cult, to the position of senior marketing specialist of the Department of Agriculture, with offices in New York.

Horch had spent more than $1,000,000 as angel for Roerich's cultural and spiritual promotions and, in that experience, he had adopted a spiritual pseudonym, "Logvan."

HORCH CONTINUED to work for the Department of Agriculture until 1942, by which time Wallace was Vice-President.

In February, 1942, shortly after Pearl Harbor, Horch was transferred to the Board of Economic Warfare as assistant chief in the New York bureau.

Horch was steadily promoted and reached the status of chief of the requirements and supply division in the New York office of the Foreign Economic Administration in 1944.

On March 2, 1945, Wallace became Secretary of Commerce.

Roosevelt, who appointed him, by this time knew all about the "Guru" letters, about Wallace's association with Roerich and about Henry's alleged interest in esoteric or mysterious religions and the pseudo-science of astrology.

Nevertheless, Roosevelt fired Jesse Jones from the position of Secretary of Commerce to vacate the job for Wallace.

Roosevelt thus would have placed Wallace in charge of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

THIS IS the "biggest bank in the world" with the power to wreck the United States and the capitalistic world. Its powers are so great and its affairs so intricate and mysterious that a person disposed to abolish the capitalistic civilization and the national boundaries which protect the United States from the parasitism and warlike envy of the backward breeds, could accomplish these purposes as chief of the R. F. C.

Congress refused to confirm Wallace for the post of Secretary of Commerce until the powers of the R. F. C. were separated from the job.

IN THE FALL of 1946, shortly before President Truman finally fired Wallace as Secretary of Commerce, Wallace raised Horch to the most powerful position he had ever held in the government.

Wallace made him regional director. He still holds that job although Wallace is out.

Wallace, meanwhile has been touring Britain, France, and the United States preaching an indefinite message which advocates the appeasement of Russia as a means of avoiding war, even though this might subject millions of human beings to the holocaust of the purifying fires mentioned in the "Guru" letters.

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 1—Bud Abbott and Lou Costello have spent so much of their own money on their youth foundation that they have to replenish the treasury. The boys are allowed, according to their contract with Universal-International, one independent picture a year.

Lou Costello

So on Saturday they signed with Eagle-Lion for this outside movie which will be called "The Noose Hangs High."

It starts Aug. 18, and is based on an original story by Edward Ullman and Clyde Bruckman.

Bud and Lou plan to spend about $1,600,000, but that should be a good investment if they do as well as they did when they made their first 13 comedies. Out of the first 13, Universal cleared $17,000,000, which you'll admit is quite a sum. The world needs laughter now. That's why "Buck Privates," which by no means was a great picture, cleaned up.

OF ALL THE YOUNG ACTORS who look nothing like a baby-face killer, I would say Lon McAllister is it. He just looks like a baby. Darryl Zanuck, however, has nominated Lon to play Martin Rome in "The Chair for Martin Rome." Well, probably Darryl knows since he was the first to put Lew Ayres in "Doorway to Hell" thereby turning a hero into a heel.

In this story, Lon plays a youngster who during the war earned $160 a week in the San Francisco shipyards. Then came peace and he went back to high school. He left school to become a robber.

Ben Hecht, who has been quite sick in New York, and Charlie Lederer have written the script, and the picture will be made in San Francisco.

RICHARD LYON, who was in an automobile accident just five weeks ago and was in a hospital while the torn ligaments in his hand healed, today felt well enough to make a picture. He told his father he wanted to do "The Tender Years," the Joe E. Brown movie, because he liked his part better than any of the scripts he's read.

So his dad, who happens to be Ben Lyon, let the little boy do his own picking and choosing. He's really a talented young actor. Richard will do his picture making for Edward Alperson, who will release through 20th Century-Fox.

PAULETTE GODDARD writes that she will not be back in Hollywood until November. She and Burgess Meredith plan to film "Winterset," the play in which Buzz was starred on the stage, and it will be made in Dublin. After that, they plan to put a play on in Paris.

There is no end to the ambition of the Goddard girl. She's reaching for worlds to conquer and for years has studied French just to be ready when the chance came to live in Paris.

Many Hollywood actors have been approached to join them in Dublin for the "Winterset" movie, but so far, there have been no acceptances.

I DON'T KNOW whether Humphrey Bogart was just sounding off, but he told someone that he didn't want to do "All the King's Men," for Mark Hellinger, who will do it as his first Columbia picture.

"Too much responsibility," said Bogey, "to star in a prize winning novel. If you are not like the character in the book, you get nothing but brickbats. I don't know that I could play that character, so I am going to back out."

Mind you, Bogey didn't say this to me—I'm repeating it second hand.

ONE THING about Maria Montez forming Christina Productions, her own company—she won't have any squabble about billing. Remember she and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., were reported going 'round-and-round about top spot on "The Exile." But that's over because the picturesque Maria has left Universal-International.

When you're your own boss you can put yourself first with no argument. Maria's company is composed of her husband, Jean Pierre Aumont, Attorney Greg Bautzer and George Loveitt and their first is "Last Year's Snow," Jack Chertok is being contacted as producer.

Incidentally, Maria would like the whole big wide world to know that Jean Pierre Aumont can have the same billing she has any time. I didn't say top billing, now, did I? In "Atlantis" they will both be on the same line, also Dennis O'Keefe. And that, in spite of the fact that she could have top billing if she wanted it.

Maria also says that she will make a picture in Paris with Jean Pierre, "La Venus De Ille." She loves the man!

THE GIRL who plays Joan Crawford's daughter in "Possessed," by name, Geraldine Brook, got a lot of complimentary post cards when the picture was previewed. I thought she was excellent in the picture.

Warners think so, too, and are building her. She's been given a new long-term contract with a salary commensurate with a young star, and I believe eventually Geraldine will be a star.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Marsha Hunt has been ordered to keep very quiet until the birth of her baby in August. She cancelled a radio show on the advice of her M. D.

Armand Deutsch, who invested almost half a million in "This Side of Innocence," 'tis rumored, is selling the script to one of the film companies. He has disbanded his production organization.

Sol Lesser, who has been quite sick in the hospital, goes home this week. During his convalescence, he planned to make Theodore Dreiser's "American Tragedy" with Lon McAllister in the lead.

Casey Robinson denies those reports from Paris that he and Tamara Toumanova, his bride, have separated. He says everything is all right.

Cardinal Spellman will be given a showing this week of John Ford's picture, "The Fugitive," which is a treatise for the freedom of religion and said by everyone who has seen it to be a fine picture.

Ann Todd, the child star who is now 18, is getting rid of a lot of headaches by changing her name to Ann E. Todd. She's continually mixed up with the British actress of the same name.

Norma Shearer

Norma Shearer and Marty Arrouge dining at Cafe Jay with Howard Hawks. Howard once was married to Norma's sister, Athol.

Speaking of Norma, she has turned down so many scripts, I'm beginning to believe she won't make a picture. She's so happily married that she will never let anything interfere with her marriage. Besides, she plans to spend most of her time in Europe this next year.

Wendy Russell, who permitted that be-jeweled hatter to announce their engagement, is now being seen everywhere with Pepi DeLucia.

Tomorrow is Charlie Foy's 33rd anniversary in show business, and he's celebrating at his valley night club.

Not since the incident of Elliott Roosevelt's pooch, have I heard of another dog being air mailed. Jan Clayton received a great Dane sent by air—but, of course, there's no war on now.

Gene Raymond reports July 20 for two weeks of active service in the Army Air Corps. He's a major in the reserves. He's the first star that I know of that is being recalled.

Cowboy Actor Ken Curtis leaves July 15 for a 10-week personal appearance tour.

A surprising twosome at the Beverly Tropics was Edna Ryan and Huntz Hall.

Natalie Draper and writer John McLain are a New York twosome.

That's all today.

George Holland

Boston After Dark

EXCLUSIVE: FEDERAL SLEUTHS trying to untangle the threads of the late Ben "Buggsy" Siegel's cobwebby financial "empire" will learn that more than $1,000,000 in Greater Boston money was attracted to the slain "Buggsy's" most grandiloquent enterprise, the awesome $7,500,000 hotel and gambling casino in Las Vegas, Nev.

CONTRASTS: In Los Angeles, the highly profitable used and "new second hand" automobile business is operated by loud characters who advertise themselves as "Mad Man" Muntz, "The Smiling Irishman," "Crazy Pants" Lemiel . . . Boston's counterpart of the Los Angeles car-dealing characters advertises himself as "Mr." Slevani, as we understood the radio announcer to pronounce his name.

A GOOD AIR-CONDITIONING system has supplanted star acts as an essential attraction for a cocktail lounge or night-club . . . Two popular Boston spots which have had a bit of bad luck with devices calculated to cool the air are Joe Venuti's (upstairs) cocktail lounge and Eddie Davis's (downstairs) Rhumba Casino . . . Joe's underpowered plant went wrong Thursday night. Although the main restaurant's atmosphere was as cool and refreshing as Irene Dunne, the Venuti Cocktail Lounge was so temporarily tepid that the place's basic appeals (including Frank Petty's Trio) were extending themselves to hold the customers.

WILSON LEWIS' great little dance orchestra and the Rhumba Casino's charm, good food and good drinks and service were struggling similarly to keep the perspiring customers happy in those nether precincts of the Fox and Hounds . . . Bulletins by telegraph from Proprietor Venuti and Landlord Davis assure us that the Venuti Cocktail Lounge and the Rhumba Casino both will be virtually frigid for tomorrow's trade . . . Signor Venuti gets specific in his bulletin and gives the weight of his new air-conditioning plant as a "five-ton system" . . . "It really works," he adds . . . Neither bulletin, we admit, is of the "stop press" type . . . But that machines have assumed more importance than personalities in the after-dark environs appeals to us as an interesting angle . . . If the Machine Age had not been preempted so violently by the Atomic Age we could have thought up a wheeze or homily to illustrate the point.

SPEAKING OF THE Atomic Age, we wonder whether Little Jack Little got his inspiration for that classical ballad "You Broke the Only Heart That Ever Loved You", from The Thing (so-called) . . . One of the more desperate lines of Jack's best-selling folk-song reads: "As if nothing mattered you bat-tered and shattered a heart so true!" . . . That's harsh going for a medium which once seemed to depend on soft sounds "croon", "moon", "spoon" and "Joon." . . . Incidentally, we were convinced that Songwriter Little was kidding—, the hillbilly chantey probables—when he wrote "You Broke the Only Heart That Ever Loved You" . . . He wrote it on the level.

FROM BUCHAREST comes news of the freedom enjoyed by the arts in Russia's contiguous democracy, Romania . . . "Yankee Doodle Dandy" was reaping harvest both in money and good will for the United States of America so beloved of the film's hero, George M. Cohan . . . "Yankee Doodle Dandy," starring Jimmy Cagney and five years old, has been released only recently in Romania . . . The Romanian people—a million of 'em already had paid admissions to see the Cohan lifestory — were so impressed that they broke into cheers and other forms of pro-American demonstrations when the picture indulged in flag-waving . . . The authorities have intervened . . . All sequences featuring Old Glory and patriotic references have been ordered out.

NEW YORK, July 1—You'd be surprised if you knew the name of the big movie executive who has been making secret visits to Avak, the Armenian "faith healer" . . . Hildegarde, the most mimic'd of the chanteuses, and Bobby Locke, the South African golf champion, are finding an amazing amount of time to spend together. He even joined some of her floor shows in St. Louis . . . Director Edmund Goulding may earn as much on his "Mam'selle" royalties as he did for megaphoning "Razor's Edge," for which he wrote the song . . . Intimates hear the widow of William Boehnel, the film critic, may enter a convent . . . Disgruntled beaux complain that Sen. Claude Pepper's attractive niece definitely isn't interested in marriage. She's got her eye on politics and a seat in Congress . . . Those who read the best seller will be surprised at the ending of the celluloid version of "The Hucksters"—or will they? It's happy, natch . . . Bruce Cabot is undergoing a throat operation and will be unable to utter those wolf calls for four weeks afterward.

Hildegarde

UN DELEGATES from the Near East scattered over $450—in tips alone—at the Riviera Wednesday night. One waiter got a $140 tip on a $60 check . . . Josephine Baker and her bridegroom, bandleader Joe Bouillon, plan to visit the U. S. after their Argentine engagement . . . Ushers at the Paramount are "frisking" bobby-soxers for sandwiches and lunch boxes. The measure is designed to prevent them from sitting through four straight shows of Perry Como . . . Autumn will tell the tale for the Vincent Astors—to Reno or not to Reno . . . Lady Iris Mountbatten had changed her mind and will stay on with the Pallini Danceterias . . . Eunice Healy, recently freed from Al White, may try it again with Herb Freezer, a business man.

WASHINGTON, July 1—Most of the people I know seem to have a blanket complex. Even in the hottest weather they want to sleep under blankets.

Scarcely a day goes by that some returning vacationist, itching with sunburn and vitality, does not burst into our fetid rat-pit and burble: "You should have been with us at Snodgrass Manor up in the Poconos. We had to sleep under blankets!"

Or another aspirant for the distinction of being village idiot does not jibber: "You'd have had the time of your life with us at Beelzebub's Beach. We had to sleep under blankets!"

The guy who distributes the mail around the building is getting bowlegged from lugging in postcards from blanket-sleepers. The senders must have special fountain pens that write under blankets. Apparently, their idea of a wonderful vacation is to roll up in a horse's overcoat and scribble postcards.

I want it distinctly understood that I don't give a hoot in Hootville about their sleeping under blankets, providing they will do me the favor of getting twisted in the things and strangling to death. That's all I care about them sleeping under blankets.

If they think they're making me jealous, they're nuts. I don't want to sleep under blankets. What the hell do they think the summer is for?

It's bad enough having to shiver under the confounded things, like an Eskimo with the ague, all winter long. When it comes summer I'm all for giving the blankets back to the moths. I'm strickly a flop-on-the bed guy, not even a top sheeter.

Any Dunderpate who cannot withstand the temptation to sleep under blankets will kindly keep his eccentricity to himself. I am even thinking of pawning my pajamas.

Thank you.

REP. EVERETT M. DIRKSEN, of Illinois, has introduced a bill authorizing the Commodity Credit Corp. to sell peanuts.

I was afraid at first that Rep. Dirksen wanted the CCC to peddle its peanuts at the ballpark or maybe in front of the White House so the squirrels could feed them to some of the presidential advisors. But it seems he just desired to equalize prices.

At present there are two different prices for peanuts—one for peanuts to be made into oil, etc., the other for eating peanuts and those used in such confections as peanut brittle, etc. Eating peanuts cost a lot more than oil peanuts and Mr. Dirksen—who believes in strict impartiality to all peanuts—desires the prices down.

That's the situation in a nutshell.

CLERKS IN the Department of Agriculture's poultry and egg branch were giggling behind their hands the other day over the title of a distinguished visitor. He was the Australian egg controller.

They must be laying 'em in the aisles in Australia.

WE were talking about the delays and do-it-tomorrow tendencies in Washington, and this led to general debate as to why people persisted in putting off things they knew they would have to do eventually. Somebody said it was utter nonsense, but Mr. Dave Sentner, the eminent political writer, summed up a whole world of philosophy with this:

"Did you ever think of the intense and agonizing joy of procrastination?"

Best's Treason Trial Off to September

Robert H. Best, 56, of South Carolina, accused with Douglas Chandler of treason, will not go to trial in Federal court here until September, according to announcement by authorities at the Federal bldg.

Judge Francis J. W. Ford, meanwhile, deferred sentencing of Chandler to allow defense counsel to file motion for a new trial in the first of several steps which may see his conviction go all the way to the Supreme Court for decision.

Woman's Death Verdict Held Up

HOLLYWOOD, July 1 (AP)—Signing of a death certificate for Mrs. Vera West, leading film costume designer whose body was found floating in the swimming pool at her lavish home Sunday, was withheld by the county autopsy surgeon until a chemical and microscopic examination is completed.

Dr. Frederick Newbarr made the decision after an autopsy was performed and an assistant county autopsy surgeon reported that death was due to asphyxia, "probably due to drowning."

Through an attorney, her husband, Jack C. West, cosmetician, described as a figment of her imagination her allusion in a farewell note to "blackmail I've paid for 23 years."

West said her health recently had not been good and that following a quarrel with him Saturday night, she said she planned to consult her lawyer about a divorce.

Smart Set Plans Bridal Abroad

By BETTY ALDEN

PRISCILLA COLLENS of Newton Centre and Lt. David E. Parker, R. N., of England, whose romance began during the war when his ship was stationed in Boston, will be married in Tunbridge Wells, England, July 12.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Terry Collens of Newton Centre and a debutante of 1945. Evidently she likes England and is happy to settle down there for she went abroad a few weeks ago to visit Dave and his family and make up her mind if she wanted to live so far from home.

She no sooner arrived than her fiance was assigned to shore duty for a year at a popular English Naval Base and the couple telephoned her family for permission to marry over there. Mr. and Mrs. Collens are very fond of their future son-in-law, having known him well when he was in Boston.

The plans developed too quickly for the Collens family to go abroad for the wedding but they hope Priscilla will come home in August to pay them a visit and collect her belongings.

The future groom is the son of Col. John Parker, Royal Engineers (ret.) and Mrs. Parker of Tide Brook, Upper Cumberland Walk, Tunbridge Wells. He graduated from Dartmouth Royal Naval Academy.

SOCIETY ARRESESSES are changing rapidly as town houses are shuttered for the season and the exodus to shore and country begins. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard and family will spend much of the summer at their place, Blueberry Hill, Chesham, N. H. The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Pierre LeM. Wentworth (Elizabeth Van Antwerp Beebe) are at Hurricane House, Wilton, N. H.

Miss Gertrude Tingley and Miss Mary B. Foor of Brookline left yesterday for their summer home at Ogunquit, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Abbot Goodhue have moved to Columbine Hill, Lancaster, where they are rejoicing in the birth of a son June 26 to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrish H. Milliken Jr., of Detroit. Mrs. Milliken is the former Phoebe Goodhue Winslow. She lost her first husband, Lt. Warren Winslow of Boston, in the war. She and Mr. Milliken were married at King's Chapel last summer.

HONEYMOONING in South Carolina are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ellis Pratt Jr., of Bridgewater, who were married at a late June wedding in the Hyannis Federated Church. The bride is the former Candace Holmes Gleason, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Holmes Gleason of Hyannis and granddaughter of Mrs. Edward F. Gleason and the late Mr. Gleason of Commonwealth ave. and Hyannis.

Four hundred guests witnessed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with peonies and gladiolas. Rev. Carl Fearing Schultz officiated. The attendants were Louise DeBarros, Tempstead, L. I., maid-of-honor; Dorinda S. Lovell, Barnstable; Virginia I. Shanley, Brant Rock; Barbara McKenzie, Brookline, and Nancy P. Davis of Waban, cousin of the groom. Three-year-old Janet Murphy of Hyannis was flower girl.

Gardner S. Pratt, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Richard Davis, Waban; John Campbell, John Carr, Bridgewater; and Gerald McAdams, Somerville.

BERKELEY, Cal., will be the future home of Edwine Baker of Milton and Gregory Jones, Jr., of Kentfield, Cal., who were married Sunday afternoon at the First Parish Church, Milton, with a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Osborne Baker.

The bride graduated from Milton Academy and Smith College, 1946. She made her debut in Boston. The groom, who served in the Navy, is completing his studies at the University of California.

TRUMANS IN MISSOURI

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., July 1 (AP)—Mrs. Bess Truman, the President's wife, and their daughter Margaret arrived here from Washington after a tornado delayed their trin two hours and a half at Warrensburg, Mo. They were accompanied by Mrs. Truman's mother, Mrs. D. W. Wallace.

LIBERATED—Norman Bostine, 18 months old, of Chicago, is shown as he talks on a telephone after police took him and his sister and brother from a locked room in the Bostine home. The parents, arrested by police, refused to say where they had been or why the children were locked up.

Curbs Under-Arm Perspiration

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

ON THE BEACH, a gal can wear virtually next to nothing and get away with it. Dressing for the office . . . or a luncheon in town . . . becomes quite a different story when it is sizzling. And while we may shed as much of our apparel as convention permits . . . resorting to the coolness and comfort of stockingless leg and soft cottons . . . it still isn't sufficient to prevent that old demon sun from planting bead bubbles on our brow and our person.

Underarm stickiness is unpleasant at best. Perspiration is a normal function . . . and an expected one when the mercury soars. But for some it is more than the normal reaction to heat . . . it is actually an excessive and trying condition. And when undue and excessive perspiration is the case . . . usually ordinary counter-actives are not sufficiently effective to keep a gal ever dewy-fresh and sweetly feminine.

For this situation there is a solution . . . as we have happily discovered for those readers who pressed for an answer to this problem. There is a medically-devised formula . . . bottled as a liquid . . . which can be more than a temporary aid and actually a curative for the condition. And it is available in two versions . . . for men and women.

MADE FROM MEDICAL FORMULA

It is much higher-priced than ordinary anti-perspirants because it is virtually a doctor's prescription extended into a liquid to relieve such a trying and harassing situation . . . which usually becomes unbearably acute during hot weather. If under-arm perspiration is more than what should be expected in summer time . . . this quality deodrant, compounded from a medical formula, is your best bet.

Not only does it check over-active glands . . . but controls perspiration under arm to such a degree that one remains always comfortable even in the hottest temperatures. Excessiveness is practically eliminated . . . and one may wear the flimiest of frocks without fear.

For the name of this counter-active for excessive perspiration, for both men and women, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, daily except the week-end, or write to me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NO DRESSMAKING experience is necessary to make this blouse . . . contrived from a sunburst patterned Glentex square . . . since you snip a little here, seam a little there, and have an easy-to-wear well-fitting blouse. But to wear such flimsy daintiness . . . be certain that you have the under-arm protection which comes from a medically-devised formulated prescription that counteracts excessive perspiration.

Some Musts for Picnics

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

IT'S PICNIC TIME! So get out the old wicker basket and polish up the long-handled forks. Sunshine and balmy breezes will draw us outdoors often from now on to feast beneath blue skies.

Anything from a hurriedly packed basket of sandwiches, fruit and cookies to a carefully planned outdoor grill may be called a picnic. As sandwiches usually make up the backbone of the lighter picnic lunch, they should be satisfying ones with substantial fillings. Cold cuts and canned meats make the handiest "middles" for meat sandwiches, and variations of these keep the picnic basket living up to eager appetites.

MEAT SANDWICHES

1—Liver sausage with mustard pickles on rye bread.

2—Liver sausage in split buns with mayonnaise and chopped cucumber, green pepper, or celery.

3—Liver sausage, mashed and mixed with onion juice; topped with sliced hard-cooked eggs and mayonnaise.

4—Bologna on white bread spread with parsley butter.

5—Bologna, ground, and mixed with grated horseradish and mayonnaise.

6—Canned luncheon meat, ground, and mixed with pickle relish, minced onion, and mayonnaise.

7—Canned luncheon meat, ground, and mixed with peanut butter or chopped peanuts and mayonnaise.

8—Thuringer sausage, ground, and mixed with chopped celery, hard-cooked eggs, sweet pickles, and mayonnaise to moisten.

9—Tongue, minced with horseradish and mayonnaise.

10—Frankfurters, sliced and mixed with mashed baked beans and minced onion.

11—Leftover roast, ground, and mixed with celery or carrots and mayonnaise.

SANDWICH-MAKING HINTS

Use a variety of breads.

Spread butter or margarine right to the edges of the bread.

Make a variety of sandwiches and cut them into difference shapes for ease in identifying.

Wrap each sandwich (or no more than two or three) in waxed paper.

HEARTY PICNIC FARE

For an outdoor menu which is heartier than the light picnic lunch, meat loaves always are a big success. Bake a picnic loaf with a row of hard-cooked eggs down the center to add a spot of color. Canned meat such as luncheon meat may be taken to the picnic right in the can and opened on the spot, to be served with salad, potato chips, vegetable sandwiches and relishes. Meat turnovers are a delightful addition to the picnic menu. Serve these with baked beans, cabbage salad and hot coffee.

Gossip Broke Up Their Friendship

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a girl of 20 and, after living a very active social life without finding any one man I cared about particularly, I finally met one I care for a lot. He is 26 years old and has all the characteristics I would want in a man. We just clicked from the start.

Then, because of some gossip, we drifted apart, and while we have everything settled now and have fun again, that "certain something" we had before is missing. When we meet at dances, or other places, I know he wants to be with me, but his friends come up and, before I know it, they have me to themselves. He is very sensitive and goes off and sits by himself, or joins another crowd and leaves early, and he ignores me for the rest of the evening.

How can I get him to ask me to go out again? Shall I play along and hope for a change, or shall I forget him?

PERPLEXED.

Dear "Perplexed":

Neither friendship nor affection can be forced. If either of them does not happen spontaneously between two people, there is nothing you can do about it.

You don't say what sort of gossip it was that caused the difference between the two of you, and, if you had told me, perhaps that would give me a clue as to what the trouble might be now. It may be, however, that when you meet this boy at dances and other places, you don't give him enough chance to pay attention to you, but accept the first advances from these other friends.

Why don't you try inviting him over to your house some night and see if he will accept the invitation?

Tight Silhouette Gown

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

PARIS loves to wrap and fold and drape its glamor into a tight, curved silhouette. The great French designers especially love to practice their intricate art on the sort of important evening gown that every woman hopes to own at least once in her life time.

Their way with such a gown is to establish one straight line as a starting point and from that line wrap the fabric in crosswise and slanting folds over the hips and bosom, letting it fall in modified drapery down to the hemline. The net result is a fluid contour which emphasizes the femininity of a woman's figure. It is a sophisticated achievement that suits the mature woman better than the ingenue.

The dress sketched today is from Mme. Mag of Paris. Her one straight line runs down the center of the gown in brilliant purple sequin embroidery. The heavy pink orchid jersey of the gown is wrapped across the hips for a rounded effect and is draped sidewise across the bosom and shoulders. The skirt is tightly draped into a modified harem line.

Russian Remedy Reported Dissolving Cancer Growths

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—The American Review of Soviet Medicine, published by the American-Soviet Medical Society of New York, reports today that the new Russian cancer remedy, KR, is dissolving the malignant growths on about half of the patients thus far treated.

Whether these people may be expected to remain cancer-free is not predicted, but one of the patients now has remained well for two-and-a-half years.

Today's report is the latest in a series describing better preparations of KR, greater dosages and more apparent effectiveness.

The report is written by Mme. N. G. Klyueva, wife of G. Roskin, who discovered the remedy. The name is the initials of husband and wife.

KR is a chemical extract from the bodies of South American trypanosomes, spindle-shaped parasites that get into human blood and cause chagas disease. Bedbugs are the carriers.

Mme. Klyueva states the KR is harmless to humans but that it causes fever, which is higher and higher as the dose is increased. But with purer preparations of KR it has been possible, she adds, to increase the dose up to 500 times the first one given a human being. Whether the cancer disappears she says depends both on how fast it is being dissolved and how fast the growth of healthy tissue occurs to replace the cancer.

Treated so far are cancers of the larnyx, esphagus, breast, lip and cervix. Five out of 10 larnyx cancer cases apparently recovered.

Bay State 4-H Leaders Cited

A citation with medallion for outstanding service to the 4-H clubs was awarded to Charles A. Nash, general manager of the Eastern States Exposition, West Springfield, while approximately 200 4-H club boys and girls from 45 states and Puerto Rico, including four Massachusetts delegates, attended the ceremony.

Earle H. Nodine and Harley A. Leland, assistant Massachusetts 4-H leaders received awards as state club leaders with 25 years of service.

Delegates to the national camp participated in numerous network broadcasts during the week. Chester Taplin, Bay State delegate from Dracut, appeared on the American Farmer broadcast.

State 4-H Leader Horace M. Jones, and assistant state leader, Tena Bishop, presided at state club leaders' conferences.

Without the new legislation, the rate would have dropped last midnight to two cents on letters for local delivery.

Bandman Barnet To Pay Wife $1000

LOS ANGELES, July 1 (AP)—Band leader Charlie Barnet was ordered to pay $100 a week for 10 weeks to his actress wife, Rita Merritt.

Miss Merritt, who married the musician in Las Vegas, Nev., May 12 after going through a previous ceremony with him in Mexico, claimed she received "a dozen beatings" from him.

Questioned by her attorney, Barnet replied: "I wouldn't say I never laid a hand on her, but it was always accompanied by whisky. I never committed assault and battery on her."

The actress claimed Barnet's earnings last year exceeded $250,000. She asked $285 a month.

Fire Jams Traffic In Market District

Traffic was jammed in the market district today as firemen fought a stubborn battle with a blaze in the six-story brick building? at 50 South Market st., occupied by Fred W. Baldau Co., sausage makers.

Only one alarm was sounded but firemen were on the scene more than five hours. Overheated pipes were believed to have set fire to woodword, causing the blaze.

New-Fast TCA Service Across Canada

VIA SAULT STE. MARIE • PORT ARTHUR • FORT WILLIAM

Now Trans-Canada Air Lines is routing its transcontinental planes via the new Great Lakes Airway, stopping at Sault Ste. Marie and Port Arthur-Fort William.

Additional service to Medicine Hat and Swift Current. Also, a new direct T.C.A. route between Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton.

These improvements reduce the flying time across Canada and help you to save still further valuable hours, available to you for vacation or business trips.

SAFETY-PIN SAFETY

LOS ANGELES, July 1 (AP) —Safety pins are the badge of safety now. The downtown Business Men's Assn is sponsoring a traffic safety campaign and has asked safety-conscious men and women to wear safety pins in their lapel or on their dress as a symbol of their pledge to reduce "the grim ratio of 90 per cent carelessness."

Large, small, gold, tin—any sort of safety pin will do.

Stead W. Rodgers Rites Thursday

Funeral services for Stead W. Rodgers, 57, trust officer of the State Street Trust Co., will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday from St. John the Evangelist Church, Hingham.

Prominent in banking circles for more than 30 years, he died at Massachusetts General Hospital a few hours after he was admitted. He lived in South Pleasant st., Hingham, and is survived by his widow, a son, Stead W., Jr., and three sisters.

He was a member of the Union Club and treasurer of the British Officers' Club.

Tickets on Sale for Gielgud's 'Love for Love'

Seats are now on sale at the Colonial Theater box office for "Love for Love," which will bring John Gielgud and his London company here for one week, beginning Monday night. There will be Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Recently triumphant in Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" in Boston and New York, the Gielgud players launch this William Congreve comedy here as the second item in their American season of comedy. Congreve's finest comedy, and held by many the best comedy in will bring some of the London theater's distinguished talents to Boston.

Ted Williams

Ted Sees Shea As Difference In Sox, Yanks

By HERB FINNEGAN

Nothing to do for the Red Sox now but wait until tomorrow night's game with the A's at Fenway. So there was plenty of time to review last night's game with the Yankees which the Sox dropped, 3-1, before 34,705 fans.

"Difference between the Yanks and us right now is Frank Shea," said Ted Williams. "Take us man for man in the field and we're the better ball club. But they've come up with the rookie pitcher of the year, and our pitching has been off. How do we stand with the Yanks now, by the way?"

Eight wins for the Yanks, three for the Sox.

"That proves Shea is the difference," said Williams. "You know, he is not particularly fast, but his ball is 'alive.' He's got control, too. He seems to walk four or five a game but the son-of-a-gun has control just the same.

"He didn't give me anything good to hit all night. Kept every thing high and inside on me. He knows what he's doing every minute he's on the mound. Oh, I don't say he'll be another Feller or Newhouser, but for a first year man he's a mighty smart pitcher. Bet he wins 18."

'Nugget From Naugatuck,' Says Harris

Shea has beaten the Sox twice in four starts this season. He lost a 1-0 decision to Hughson in his first start, beat the Sox in Boston in a 9-6 score, was chased by them in New York, a game which Joe Page won for the Yanks, and beat 'em again last night when he tossed a four-hitter.

"He's a nugget from Naugatuck," said Bucky Harris, who first started to sing the Kid's praises down south when he was virtually an unknown.

"No, he's not fast in a Feller sense," said Harris, "but his ball always is doing something. Besides he's intelligent and has the heart of a lion.

"Worst game he's pitched this season was that against you fellers up here, that 9-6 game. But he was good in spots that night and he fanned Williams when it counted most. He's pitched great ball all the way, particularly against Newhouser."

Shea has faced and beaten Newhouser three times this season, twice by the shutout route. Only games he's lost were that 1-0 affair to Hughson in which he allowed only three hits to Hughson's two, and a 3-2, 11-inning game to the White Sox.

Shea takes it all in stride. He's a husky 205-pounder with an ideal competitive temperament and a good sense of humor. He got that way from playing ball for Casey Stengel at Oakland last season.

He won 15, lost 5 for ol' Case and had an ERA of 1.66. He likes to tell stories of ol' Case.

But today, while the Yanks were playing an exhibition at Newark, he was enjoying a holiday at his Connecticut home. He was looking forward to it before he took the 12:30 train this morning.

Fills Gap Left by Bevens' Failure

"I got the ball," he said as he stepped on the scales and found he had shed 10 pounds during the game. "Johnny Lindell gave it to me. Now I can satisfy that nephew of mine who's been asking me for a ball for weeks."

"Give him the diploma, too," urged Bill Johnson.

"Where is it?" asked Shea, and he found it dripping wet from perspiration. It was not exactly a diploma. It was a certificate given by a Philadelphia radio concern, the Athlete of the Week."

"Yet, I'll give him that, too. That'll make him happy. I'll give him a ride in my new car, too."

Shea was given a new car by his Naugatuck friends in a game at Yankee Stadium a few weeks ago.

"It's still intact," he laughed, recalling that Jim Hegan figured in a crack-up in Cleveland a few days ago with the car his Lynn friends presented him at Fenway Park two weeks ago.

Shea has been a most valuable pick-up for the Yanks in view of the fact that Floyd Bevens is not winning as he did in '46.

"I'd be perfectly content if Joe Page were ready to pitch," said Harris. "He's in New York with an aching back. Don't know when he'll be ready. He was pitching great relief ball for us.

"Well," philosophized the manager as he puffed on a cigar, "a fellow can't have everything. Here we are with a 5½-game lead, and I'd rather be out in front than chasing somebody—and we've Shea. This isn't a bad life after all."

Schedule Favors B's to Hold First Place for 4th of July

By MIKE GILLOOLY

NEW YORK, July 1—First place for the Fourth of July!

It wasn't mentionable in the company of Mgr. Billy Southworth but every member of the Braves organization had that mental obstacle in mind as they moved into the Polo Grounds for a one-night stand against the Giants (Johnnie Sain, 9-4, vs. S. Kennedy, 6-3, or Clint Hartung, 4-3) before shuffling on to Philadelphia for a three-game series.

Actually, "first for the Fourth" was not beyond imagination. After the bothersome but pitcherless Giants, the Braves will step into a moonlight sail against the flopping Phils, follow up with a double-header on the holiday—either to gain the psychological edge in accordance with the ancient axiom or fall behind in scrambled National League standings.

Mel Ott's Giants have been powdering the pill at a terrific rate to drive into third place, only a few percentage points from the top. Johnnie Mize, Willard Marshall and catcher Walker Cooper have been the big guns in the assault that has proven a confined contagion in the Giant camp. Mize has belted out 20 circuit clouts to lead both leagues; Marshall has been chipping in with his share; Cooper had a recent rash that developed seven in six games to tie the N. L. record.

But while the Giants bats will be the big factor in the New Yorkers' drive, the hustling Southworths have the pitching to combine with some lusty clouting of their own. They're slowly but surely gaining the balance which comes with a championship club.

It had been felt, in many pre-American League circles that the Braves would collapse in accordian style when they discovered that they had reached the top rung of the ladder on their recent trip through the West. Instead, the club has taken on a new spirit, as was evident in the grand comeback against the Phillies in sweeping the Sunday twin bill.

The squad was tendered a welcome to New York by seven members who had been allowed to pass up the exhibition with the farm team at Pawtucket, R. I., last night. Pitchers Sain, Warren Spahn, Red Barrett, catcher Phil Masi, infielders Connie Ryan, All-Star Bob Elliott and Frank Mccormick were well-rested for the grind in the July heat.

Johnny Hopp wasn't another not with the Braves who squeezed a 4-3 win over Pawtucket before a crowd of 8291, including hundreds of youngsters who kept dashing on the McCoy Stadium Field between innings to get Torgeson's autograph and who once set off a skyrocket that whizzed by close to Torgy's head and dug a bomb-hole at short.

Hopp was left in Boston to be treated for a muscle pull in the right side which is causing him so much pain that he's been sleepless for two nights. Mgr. Bill Southworth said Hopp, whose speed is of great value, will join the Tribe in Philadelphia for the July 4 double-header.

A homer in the ninth by Chico Fernandez decided the issue at Pawtucket.

Dan Litwhiler, with a non-aboard homer and a two-run double, batted in other Boston runs. The two that rode in on Litwhiler's two-bagger were put in position by an error on a double-play ball.

As Chisox Play for Vets Lyons to Hurl Again

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP) — The pitching career of Ted Lyons, Chicago White Sox manager, is still going on although his name has been erased from the active roster.

Lyons said that he would pitch a "few innings" July 19 when the Sox play an exhibition game against the Chicago policemen's team at Hines Hospital here for the benefit of wounded servicemen.

"TOO LATE!"

Don't wait until it is too late to help the appearance of your hair as this man did. His case was rejected for treatment, as many others have been, because hair once lost can never be regrown. If your hair is dull, drab or dingy, or your scalp laden with dandruff and itches constantly, you should consult John E. Warner and Associates while you still have hair. A well groomed head of hair is an asset worth keeping.

There is no charge or obligation for a private scalp examination and consultation. Fees for treatment are moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken, not in advance. There are separate departments for men and women.

2nd Round of Hearst Golf At South Shore

By BILL GRIMES

When the qualifiers enter match play for the Hearst New England Junior championship, there'll be four youngsters from New Bedford battling to reach the finals, namely Ralph Jenkins, who was the runner-up to Vinnie Moran, Fresh Pond, last year at the Woodland Golf Club, Bernie Fauteux, who was the medalist yesterday at the Pawtucket Country Club, Earl Chase and Curtis Bates.

Paul Butler, Pawtucket, the junior titleholder, and little Danny Magiera, who hails from West Warwick, will be the Rhode Island representatives in the match play. Yesterday's other two qualifiers were Bill Dow, Wellesley, and Gene Peary, Highland.

The Greater Boston juniors will take their stroke tests tomorrow at the South Shore Country Club. And, as was the case yesterday at Pawtucket, the low eight will qualify for match play. The same system will be in vogue at Wachusett and Merrimack Valley next Monday and Friday respectively.

Despite the fact that the Massachusetts Golf Association, which had copied the Hearst idea of qualifying in four districts, cancelled the stroke competition, there is great interest in the "Hearst." The M.G.A. junior championships are restricted to boys affiliated with members clubs. The "Hearst" is open to all boys who have not reached their 19th birthdays. Forgetful of the fact that the four war years stripped the junior ranks of hundreds of promising youngsters, the M.G.A. reduced the age limit from 21 to 18. Therefore, because of the small entry list (60), the state junior championship flopped.

Judging from the calibre of golfers who passed their tests yesterday, the "Hearst" field will be faster than it was a year ago. Ralph Jenkins wasn't up to his usual game at Pawtucket but he's a better golfer and more experienced than when he went to the finals of the "Hearst" New Englands a year ago. Then he reached the quarter finals in the "Hearst" National Junior championships at the Oakland Hills Country Club at Birmingham, Mich., where he was eliminated by Bob Harris, of San Jose, Cal.

Bernie Fauteux was the victim of a tough break at Woodland in the '46 "Hearst." He was beaten in the third round by his clubmate, Ray Woodcock, who reached match play as an alternate. Woodcock went to the semi-finals which qualified him to play in the Nationals at Oakland Hills.

Fauteux posted a 77 yesterday at Pawtucket to be the medalist. Like the other New Bedford boys who made the grade yesterday, Fauteux has never played in a state junior championship because his club isn't a member of the M. G. A. Nevertheless, he's an exceptionally fine golfer and the boys will have trouble getting him out of the "Hearst."

The finalists of the N. E. "Hearst" will go to Los Angeles, about the 10th of August, to participate in the Nationals. The E. A. Hearst papers which will sponsor the Nationals has arranged a grand program for the 32 boys who will be their guests for almost three weeks.

Every boy who is eligible to play in the "Hearst" should try to qualify, either at South Shore tomorrow, or at Wachusett or Merrimack Valley next week.

WORSHAM DEMANDS GUARANTEE TO PLAY IN TAM O'SHANTER

PITTSBURGH, July 1 (AP)—Lew Worsham, new crowned National Open golf champion, said that he would not appear in the All-American Open starting Thursday at Chicago "unless I receive a substantial appearance guarantee."

Asked if he had refused to appear because he hasn't been offered $5000 to compete—the same amount reportedly offered to Bobby Locke, South African golfer, Worsham said:

"I wouldn't care to comment on that. There have been reports that George May (promotor of the Tam O'Shanter Country Club event) offered Locke that amount. I don't know if they are true but I do know this—I will not appear unless I can get a substantial appearance guarantee."

Mackerel Catch Good At Manomet

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

The weekend's heat wave didn't prevent hundreds of anglers from taking to the water, where the not-so-hot fishing cooled them off considerably. Certain species, however, provided a bit of sport in spots . . . At Manomet Pt., Al Tripp, veteran boatman, reports that business was brisk, with the mackerel hitting well. Cod and flounders are plentiful there, too . . . "Eggie" Thurston, Milton, had the honor of taking the first tautog of the season, recently.

Scores of craft were in action off Plum Island Point, returning good catches of flounders, cod, and some mackerel. One chap brought in no less than 2000 pounds, we're told. He must be operating a fish market! . . . Striped bass are being hooked on the flats at the mouth of the Merrimack.

Al Keyer, Plum Island boat station owner and charter skipper, now has brought eight tuna to gaff, the fish caught in waters off Maine. Al sighted several of the big bluefins in Ipswich Bay, Sunday, which should be good news for local tuna enthusiasts.

In the Buzzards Bay area, many fishermen have been landing few stripers, for the bass are still feeding on the copious amounts of whiting that are running through the Canal . . . Among the more lucky anglers were Floyd Roman, Springfield, who took four bass, on eelskin rigs, and Bill Case, Sr., who bit three of these specimens . . . Some fair-sized tautog have been hauled in from the state pier, while there are a few mackerel at the east end of the Canal.

ANGLING ANGLES: Judging from recen chats with striper fishermen, everyone is greatly annoyed by the illegal seining being carried on at present in Bay State waters. Unfortunately, the boys are being too "noble," not desiring to divulge what they may know about these unlawful angling activities . . . We suggest calling the Div. of Marine Fisheries, Capitol 4600. All reports will be treated as confidential, and it's the job of the coastal wardens to nab the culprits.

In the George Ruppert Fishing Contest, Henry J. Rippe, of Belmont, leads in the cod division with a 37-pound, 4 oz. fish, caught off Boston Harbor . . . In the striped bass division, Howard Cain, Atlantic City, is top line, his 39-pounder leading at present . . . Surely a New England angler ought to be able to tie into a bass that will exceed that weight . . .

Dobson, Hughson Good Despite Loss

SORE ARM DEPT.—Joe Dobson: "My arm has been sore for three days before I faced the Yanks. In the game it didn't bother me a bit. I had good stuff, and it didn't ache once. I don't care if it aches between games as long as I can get something on the ball while I'm pitching. I feel encouraged" . . . Dobson gave only three hits in six innings, but all three runs were scored off him. Tex Hughson: "It hurt, yes. Let it hurt. I was fast, fast as I ever was. I'll pitch as long as I can get something on the ball" . . . Tex pitched three innings, gave up three hits. He fanned Shirnweiss for the final out with Rizzuto on second base. It was Tex's first relief trick of the season. His fame arm won't permit him to start often.

Same Mele and Dom DiMaggio, roomies on the road, both sat on the bench while Shea dueled Dobson before 34,705. Culberson was in center field, Moses in right and Pellagrini on third. With a double play in front of him in the first inning, Pelley booted Lindell's DP ball. DiMaggio followed with a triple that was good for two runs and the decision. Pelly did his best to atone for it. Twice he chased DiMaggio to the 400-foot mark for long drives, and he saved Hughson's life in the eighth when he glove-handed Johnson's drive and converted it into a double play . . . Tebbetts got two of the Sox four hits, Moses one and Doerr one . . . Williams popped to Johnson, walked, fanned and was robbed of a single when McQuinn made a beautiful play on his screeching hopper.

McQuinn, Lindell and DiMaggio are batting in the .320's and Johnson is among the league's RBI leaders. The Yanks have the punch, the fielding and have been getting quality pitching. They're acting much the same as they did when they were winning pennants, exuding quiet confidence . . . Charlie Keller, who is still tied for the league lead in home runs, has not played a game since early in June. He's in New York nursing an aching back. Lindell has done a fine job while filling in for him. . . . "Don't know when Keller will be ready," said Harris." "He pinch hit one night recently and hurt himself all over again." . . . Johnson has played only 50 games for the Yanks. He sat on the bench early in the season while Bobby Brown played third. When Brown got hurt, Johnson stepped in, and now Brown can't get his job back. Harris said he would take Yanks' Shea, Chandler, DiMaggio, Robinson and McQuinn to the All-Star game . . . The Sox used the Detroit shifts against DeMaggio, and in the third inning Doerr threw Joe out from the shortstop side of second base.

McQuinn is rejuvenated since joining the Yanks. Why not after suffering all these years with the Browns and A's? "Just makes me think what might have been," said the personable first baseman who was fired by the A's last winter. "Attendances have a lot to do with it. In St. Louis and Philadelphia there were few in the stands. In New York, they're always packed. They root for you too, not against you as they did in Phila., the 'Friendly City'. It makes a difference."

Roy of Waltham Hopes to Repeat In Hearst Tourney

By JACK CONWAY, JR.

Thomas "Normie" Roy, the talented Waltham pitching ace and left fielder, will be among the hundreds of youths who will be present, next Tuesday, for the tryouts of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser sandlot baseball tournament.

The versatile Waltham youngster will be attempting to make it his second straight year as one of the two New England representatives in the national finals at the Polo grounds, New York. Last season he played in left field in the finals if he is selected this year he'll be the first ever to perform the feat in New England.

Roy, who has established quite a name for himself as a talented southpaw pitcher, confidently believes that he has as much a chance of taking over the laurels this season on the mound as in the outfield.

Sixplayers will be selected from those who workout at Braves Field Tuesday. These boys will participate in the N. E. title game at Fenway Park July 29th, from which the two most outstanding will go to New York.

Bill Barrett, Red Sox New England scout and a director of the tourney will be on hand to guide the lads and advise them on ways to improve their diamond prowess. Claude Davidson, president of the New England League, and the other co-director of the tourney will also be at the Tepee to assist the fledgling hopefuls.

H. Walker Takes Lead In NL Race

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP) — Harry (Little Dixie) Walker of the Phils, who has been staging a two-man battle with Enos Slaughter of the Cardinals for the National League batting championship since early May, took over the lead from his former teammate with a mark of .345, a gain of three points during the week.

Lou Boudreau, injury-hampered playing manager of the Cleveland Indians, despite a badly sprained ankle, raised his top figure seven points to .350. He holds an 11-point bulge on the rest of the field and has hit safely in his last 15 games.

Walker's climb sent Slaughter, leader for the past two weeks, to a second place tie with Brooklyn's Carl Furillo. Each is hitting .340 through games of last Sunday, June 29.

Only six of the leading 10 in the National a week ago remained in the select group today. Two of them, Bert Haas of Cincinnati and Bob Elliott, ran fourth and fifth, respectively. Haas is batting at a .336 clip while Elliott upped his mark to .327.

Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn first baseman who has hit safely in his last 16 games, climbed from below .300 to a sixth place .317, one point in front of Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner and two ahead of New York's Johnny Mize, the home run leader. Willard Marshall of the Giants and Terry Moore of the Cardinals are tied for ninth place with .311.

Dodgers 2 Points Off Braves' Leading Pace

By the Associated Press

The Brooklyn Dodgers, led by their new home run slugger Pee Wee Reese, their new outfielder Arky Vaughan and their new cleanup clouter Carl Furillo, downed the Phillies in Philadelphia, 7-4, to move within two percentage points of the National League leading Braves.

With Reese, Vaughan and Furillo bagging three hits apiece, one of Reese's being his ninth home run, the Dodgers hammered Schoolboy Rowe for 14 hits to hand the big right-hander his third setback of the season and his first at Shibe Park since April 21, 1946. Until beaten last night, Rowe had won 13 straight games at his home park.

Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn's first baseman, with a single in four times at bat, extended his hitting streak to 17 straight games before retiring because of a sore back. Del Ennis, Philadelphia's fine sophomore, went Robinson two better by banging a double and a triple to stretch his hitting streak through 19 consecutive games, best in the majors.

Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati's no-hit pitcher, recovered from a poor start to register his 11th straight and 13th victory of the season as his mates came from behind to defeat the Chicago Cubs in Cincinnati, 6-4.

The Cubs scored all their runs in the first inning on two hits, three bases on balls and shortstop Eddie Miller's two-run error, then got only two more hits off Blackwell the rest of the way.

The Chicago White Sox spotted Detroit a 5-0 lead in the second inning and then came on to defeat the Tigers 6-5 in Chicago on Luke Appling's eighth inning home run off Hal White.

Frank Papish, who relieved Gordon Maltzberger in the eighth, was the winner.

The homer was Appling's sixth. Only twice before, in 1933 and again in 1936, has Appling ever hit as many as six homers in one season. Luke also got two singles.

Washington emerged the victor in a see-saw battle with the Athletics, winning 8-7 with a three-run cluster in the last of the ninth. The A's had taken a 7-5 lead in the top of the inning with three runs of their own.

Time's Running Out, Corum Warns Cronin

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK, July 1 (INS)—Mr. Joe Cronin, Fenway Park, Boston, Mass.: Dear Mr. C.—I have just been reading an account in a morning paper of the first night ball game ever played by our Yankees in Boston. Even if you have got Mones on your side and might have lost him when the lights went out, it looks as if you should have pulled the switch.

As you must know by now, Joe, although this is the age of the airplane and the automobile, the Sbea has come to stay in New York. The Connecticut Yankee is quite a pitcher, isn't he?

You probably heard the uproar those puny plasters caused around here all the way to Back Bay, Joe. Although we've been friends for many years, I pack no sandwich boards for the embattled red head in the Yanks' swivel chair. Still, when a man shows me over and over that he's a smart operator, I must eventually be convinced.

Larry has made his and will make more, no doubt. But if he isn't one of the most imaginative and alert promoters in sports, a pretty shrewd judge of a ball player and unusually successful on the business side . . . then the book on his past performances is all wrong.

Much of the credit of the Yanks sharp change in fortune from last season obviously goes to Bucky Harris. And it couldn't have happened to a nicer fellow. It seems to me that his handling of his players has been superb.

I think you'll agree, Joe, that this Yankee team is a top-notch outfit and that if they once get to believing that they are going to win and take the bit in their teeth, they'll be hard to handle.

Yet if Harris comes through with another pennant winner, it will be a matter of record that he had his good fortune forced upon him.

Naturally the Yankees are a long way from being home free. In the type of pennant races this season has produced to date, a five and one-half game lead is far from commanding. Even though the Fourth of July is just around the corner.

You and I are probably the only two people who remember, Joe, that I picked the Red Sox for six straight years before you eventually got 'em home for me.

Also because I wouldn't mind seeing another World Series such as the one of last autumn. To me, perhaps because my boys finally pulled it out, it was the most exciting series in a long time.

But if you and skipper Eddie Dyer are going to have the pleasure of coming to grips again in the master minding department this October, the time is due for both of you to start moving in that direction.

Indeed, the hour is late.

Ghezzi 15 in British Open Golf

HOYLAKE, England, July 1 (AP)—Vic Ghezzi, smiling pro from Kansas City, toured the par 71 Arrowe Park course in 72 today for a 151 that is expected to place him among the 100 low scorers who shoot 72 holes the remainder of the week in the British Open Golf Tourney. Ghezzi, one of five Americans seeking to win the title Sam Snead failed to defend, registered a fat 79 yesterday over the Hoylake layout, but found the Arrowe layout much easier.

With the second round barely under way, it was believed that scores of 154 or 155 would qualify for the tourney proper starting tomorrow. Cyril Tolley, former British amateur champion who also had a 79 yesterday, withdrew.

Norman Van Wide, the Australian pro who is co-favorite with England's own Henry Cotton, fired a 60 over the Hoylake Course today and for a time appeared certain to break the course record of 68—which is par at Hoylake for this tourney. He had a 70 in the first round for a 139 aggregate. Cotton qualified with 74-72—146.

Bob Sweeney, Jr., California-born London broker, also made the qualifying list with 79 over Hoylake today after a 70 yesterday.

Basil Shepard, a little known British pro, made a hole in one on the 167-yard eighth hole at Arrowe Park. His tee shot hit the green a yard from the pin, bounced against the stick and fell into the cup.

Norman Sutton, another British pro, fired a 71 at Arrowe to go with his previous 75 for 146.

Mack Guest of Honor

MERIDEN, Ct., July 1 (AP)—Forty-three years ago Connie Mack broke into organized baseball with the Meriden Club in the old Connecticut league. Today, the 84-year-old "Mr. Baseball" returns here for a day named in his honor. Between 1884, when he shook the dust of Meriden off his gaunt frame, and now, Mack has won almost about every honor there is in baseball.

Mack and his latest edition of the Philadelphia A's, currently a sensation in the American League, will be feted from the time they arrive—3:45 p. m. (EST), until they leave after a night exhibition baseball game with a local semi-pro club.

Mack, the dean of big league baseball managers, will be officially welcomed at the Meriden railroad station by a delegation headed by Connecticut's governor, James L. McConaughey, and baseball's commissioner, Albert (Happy) Chandler.

A parade and banquet will precede the game which is expected to attract some 10,000 fans, among them Meriden's Jack Barry, shortstop of the A's famed $100,000 infield during Mack's pennant winning days of 1910-14, and Big Ed Walsh, Chicago White Sox pitching ace shortly after the turn of the century, who resides here.

Also planning to renew friendships with Connie are D. W. Murray, 70, and Charles McGrath, 78. Murray was bat boy and McGrath mascot on Meriden's club when Mack became a baseball pro.

Just before the game starts, Connie will be presented with several gifts.

Connie Mack Day is a feature of Meriden's celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the American silverplate industry here by the three Rogers brothers.

Gansett Daily Handle Off $300,000

By DAVE WILSON

NARRAGANSETT PARK, July 1—Gansett is sure to finish up its current 30-day meeting on Saturday with a daily mutuel average of better than $900,000. This is a far cry from the $1,261,000 average at the spring meeting of a year ago, but it isn't tin, as any stockholder in the Narragansett Racing Ass'n will attest. Taking the current Narragansett Park meeting as a barometer, the days of million-dollar average "handles" on New England tracks may have at least been temporarily ended. The act that Gansett, which is running without competition of any sort and blessed by good weather, has failed to reach the million-dollar goal is a pretty clear indication that the fans haven't as much money to spend on their favorite pastime as they did during the war boom.

Black Knave's poor showing in the recent race won by First Sentry is attrributed to the fact that the jockey was given orders to rate his mount instead of forcing the early pace. It may sound a bit farfetched, but your envoy believes that drastic changes in orders such as Black Knave received should be announced to the public over the public address system before post time. Incidentally, Black Knave was right atop the early pace in yesterday's race and turned in a highly improved performance.

Jockey Harry Pratt reports that Calvados tried to bolt on both turns in last Saturday's Roger Williams Handicap. This may have influenced erratic Float Me to bolt and pile up the field at the first turn. Trainer Bob Moore has decided to send Float Me to C. F. Herrman's Farm at Middletown, Ct., for a long rest . . . The Marlet Stable's Royal Lover is on the grounds awaiting the running of the $15,000 Providence Stakes.

Al Shlager has sold Flo's Herbert and Waverly to D. F. Harrington. Terms of the transaction were private . . . O. B. Burgar's Easy Al yesterday morning worked six furlongs in 1:14 in preparation for Friday's Nursery Stakes . . . In case anybody is interested, Agrarian-U, Air Patrol, Air Rate and True North have been assigned identical packages of 122 pounds for Saturday's $10,000 Bristol Handicap. Agrarian—U is the only member of this quartet likely to face the barrier . . . F. Fernandez, the Cuban sensation who reached Gansett via Mexico City, has been engaged to pilot Belrate in the Providence Stakes and a juvenile belonging to the Lazy F. Ranch in the Nursery . . . William Helis is shipping Tidy Bid and End of Strife to Gansett to compete in the Bristol and Providence stakes respectively.

Middleweights Top Dilboy Post Card

Middleweight fighters will provide plenty of action at Dilboy Field, Somerville, tomorrow night as the George Dilboy Post, V. F. W., stages the second in its series of floodlight programs.

Six 160-pounders—Joe Gill, South Boston; Dan Cronin, Watertown; Mike Coccozza, Haverhill, and Jim McNeil, Joe Daley and Austin Elder, all Cambridge—have filed their entries. This group should insure at least 20 matches on another amateur show with a lengthy list of fighters.

Competition will be in Classes A and B in all divisions from the 112's to heavyweights. Entries may be filed with Fred Russo, 371 Summer st., Somerville.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS

NOTICE to Contractors—Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Department of Public Works. Sealed bids or proposals will be received by the Department of Public Works at its office, 4th Floor, 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Mass., until 12 o'clock noon (D.S.T.), Tuesday, July 15, 1947, and at that place and time will be publicly opened and read. The work to be done consists of furnishing and placing gravel fill, paving, drainage and water service in North Hangar Area, General Edward Lawrence Logan Airport, East Boston. Charge for specifications is $2.00 which amount is returnable only to bidders. Proposal guaranty shall consist of a certified check for $20,000 payable to the order of the Department of Public Works or other security satisfactory to the Department. A bid bond will not be accepted. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a bond for the faithful performance of the contract in such sum as may be fixed by the Department. The surety may be a surety company or securities satisfactory to the Department. Attention is called to the minimum rate of wages to be paid on the work as determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries under the provisions of Chapter 461 of the Acts of 1935. Complete information may be obtained from the office of the Department. Right reserved to waive any informality in or reject any or all proposals. A proposal which includes for any item a bid that is abnormally low or high may be rejected as unbalanced. By: WILLIAM H. BURRACKER, Commissioner of Public Works, July 1, 1947.

Curley's Health Failing in Prison

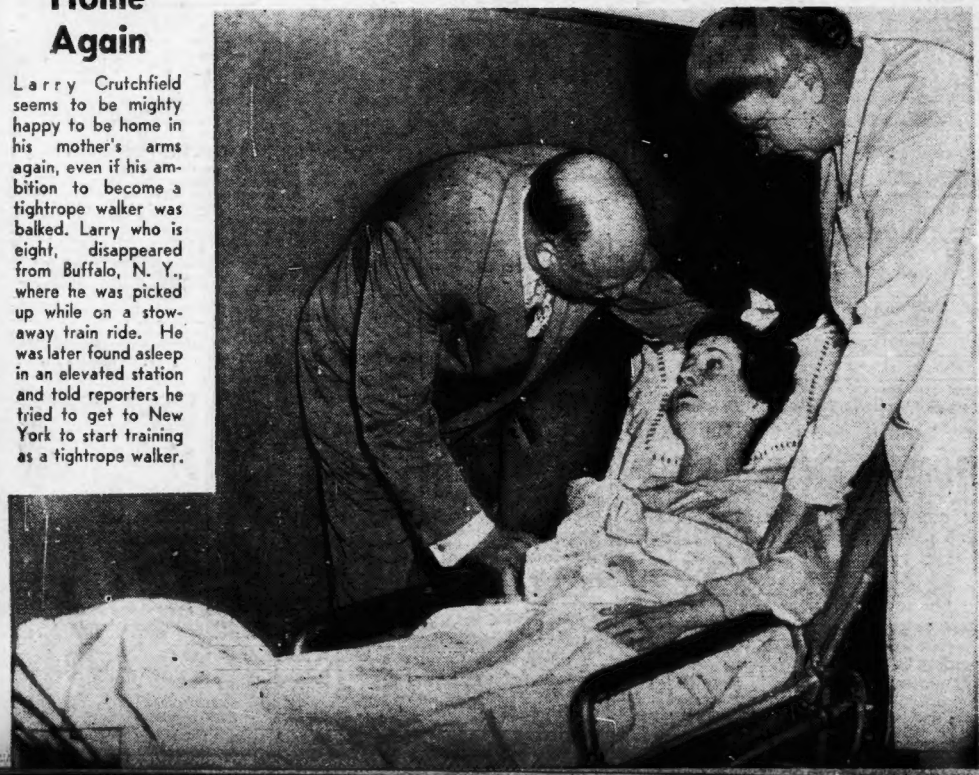
Home Again

Larry Crutchfield seems to be mighty happy to be home in his mother's arms again, even if his ambition to become a tightrope walker was balked. Larry who is eight, disappeared from Buffalo, N. Y., where he was picked up while on a stowaway train ride. He was later found asleep in an elevated station and told reporters he tried to get to New York to start training as a tightrope walker.



Her Prize

Hugging the trophy she won for capturing the British women's amateur golf championship in Gullane, Scotland, Babe Didrikson Zaharias arrives in New York aboard the S. S. Queen Elizabeth. The top-notch athlete is the first American-born golfer to win the event. Her husband, George Zaharias, is a Denver wrestler.

Asks Aid

Accompanied by her lawyer, Daniel Covelli (left), Mrs. Mary Lydy of Chicago is brought into circuit court on a hospital stretcher to support her petition asking her husband, Richard G. Lydy, parking lot operator, be compelled to pay her current hospital bill of $1000 a month.
